

A Good Masmid
Needs Your
Full Support

The Commentator

YESHIVA COLLEGE

Have You
Bought
Your Shabul

VOLUME V.

NEW YORK CITY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1937

NUMBER 10.

DR. BERGMAN TO TALK HERE NEXT TUESDAY, MAY 4

Chancellor Of Hebrew
University To Be
School's Guest

ASSEMBLY 5:15

Dr. Pinkhos Churgin To Preside At Meeting

Dr. Hugo Bergman, Chancellor of the Hebrew University in Palestine, will address an assembly of both the students and faculty of the college on Tuesday, May 4, at 5:15, according to an announcement from the office.

In the absence of Dr. Revel, who will be at Atlantic City to attend a conference of the Agudath H'Rabbonim, of which he is honorary president, Dr. Churgin will act as chairman of the assembly.

Dr. Bergmann spoke recently at the Temple Emanuel in N.Y., at which time a sizeable group of Yeshiva students attended. At present he is making a tour of the United States in behalf of the university which he heads.

He will include in his itinerary a number of the larger cities where he will address meetings of the Hebrew University's friends, in order to give first hand reports of the progress made during the past few years in the building up of the university as a cultural and educational center of the Near East.

He will especially stress the rapid expansion of the scientific departments of the school, and the growth of the science faculty, which now includes world-famous biologists and authorities in the field of medical research.

J. U. C. HOLDS SPECIAL FORUM SUNDAY NIGHT

Dr. B. Leon Horowitz To Be Speaker

Dr. B. Leon Horowitz will be the guest speaker of the Jewish University Club at a special forum to be held in connection with the next meeting on Sunday evening, May 2. His topic will be, "Contemporary Prejudice — How Shall We Meet It?"

One of the bi-weekly seminars conducted by the Club was held at the Institutional Synagogue on 85th Street last Sunday evening, April 25, at which Harry Walker '38, conducted a class in elementary conversational Hebrew, and Rabbi Wohlgeleuter conducted a group in Jewish History and Philosophy.

The Jewish University Club is an organization which aims to propagate and perpetuate Torah True Judaism amongst the graduate and undergraduate university and college Jewish youth. It plans to make its scope for the coming year more national and intensive and to make the various important college towns focal centers for its activity. The J.U.C. hopes to establish groups in every large American college and university, where Jewish young men and women attend.

When Library Gives Books, It Is News

That journalistic dictum about the man and the dog has attained local significance in a variant form. The library, reversing its usual procedure of receiving books, has now turned the tables and has given books away.

The recipient of the unusual gift is the Commentator, to which the library has given a set of handbooks of English usage and literary style. There were those who saw in the gift an unmistakable hint, but the dispute as to the significance of the books is still raging in the Governing Board and among staff members.

TO TAKE MASMID PHOTOS MONDAY

All Year-Book Pictures Are Slated For Next Week

Photographs for The Masmid will be taken next Monday and Tuesday, May 3 and 4, Lester Silverman '37, business manager, announced yesterday. All students were requested by him to watch the bulletin boards for a detailed schedule of the hours and place for the taking of pictures.

Silverman also announced that seniors taking individual pictures would have to pay a $3 fee to the Masmid. Students who bring in $10 in ads will be exempt from payment of this fee.

All students who wish to do work for the Masmid or to arrange for anything with the Masmid can see either Louis Henkin '37, editor, Lester Silverman '37, or Edward Tennenbaum '37, assistant business manager, at the Masmid office, opposite the office of the art department, any day from 2:15 to 3 p.m.

Small Fire With Lots Of Smoke Routs Sophomore Chem Class

"Where there's smoke there's fire" is an often used proverb. But if one were to have judged by the dense white clouds of smoke which poured out of a small room on the fourth floor and filled the nearby corridors, he would have been justified in sending for the fire apparatus.

In truth, there was a fire—a small one, out of all proportion to the amount of smoke—but enough to inject a few exciting moments into an otherwise dreary day.

The sophomore chem class was absorbed, more or less, in listening to a lecture demonstration on the properties of phosphorus. As the professor poured phosphorus from a vial under water, by accident the water spilled over the lecture table, and the phosphorus, which was burning, fell into the water.

About half an hour later, when the class had already adjourned to the cafeteria sitting on the floor, a small fire started in the back of the room, which quickly turned into a full

DR. MARGALITH LEADS POLITICAL DISCUSSION AT I. R. CLUB MEETING

Dr. Reich Unable To Attend,
Will Be Speaker At
Next Meeting

A discussion of various problems in foreign relations was conducted by Dr. Margalith at the meeting of the International Relations Club last Wednesday night. Dr. Nathan Reich of Hunter College who was originally scheduled to address the club on "Economic Internationalism" was unable to attend.

Among the questions touched upon during the discussion were the present Spanish situation and the apparent contradictions of British foreign policy. A great deal of discussion was elicited by the suggestion that to secure greater cooperation of England in Palestine it might be expedient to convert the British mandate over Palestine into a purely colonial bond.

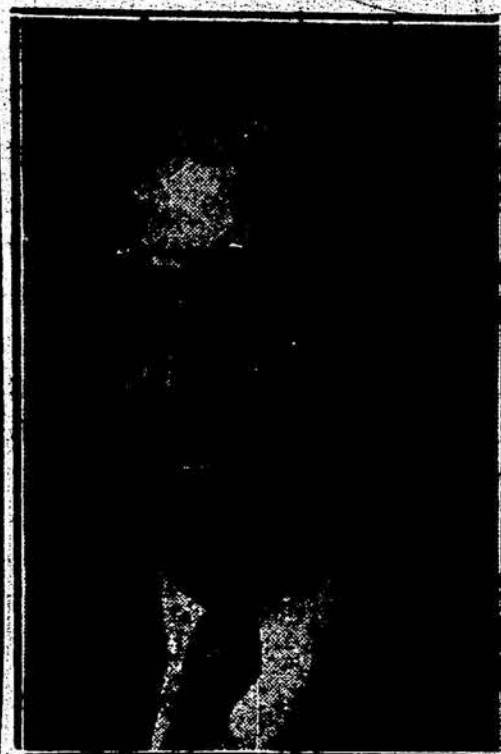

Dr. Margalith announced that the guest speaker at the next meeting, to be held on Wednesday, May 5, at 9 p. m., will be Dr. Reich, who will speak on his originally scheduled topic, "From Political to Economic Democracy."

Scheduled for the following meeting is Dr. Samuel Belkin, recently appointed Rosh Yeshiva and instructor in Greek at the college.

APPLICATION BLANKS

Mr. Harstein, registrar of the college, has issued a final appeal to those students who have not as yet filled their scholarship application blanks to do so without further delay. If these applications are not received by the bursar in the immediate future, he stressed, the committee will be unable to give them any consideration.

DIVERGING VIEWS HEARD AT PEACE DAY MEETING

Dr. Alexander Litman, who attacked war propaganda at the Peace Day meeting last Thursday.

ABEL APPOINTED ASSOCIATE PROF

Is Given Promotion By Columbia University

Dr. Theodore Abel, member of the Associate Faculty in sociology, has been appointed to the rank of associate professor at Columbia University, that institution announced recently.

Dr. Abel, until the present, has held the position of assistant professor there.

Prior to his association with the faculty of Columbia University, Prof. Abel held the post of assistant professor at Cornell University and the University of Illinois.

He is the author of several works in the field of sociology, among them, "Systematic Sociology in Germany" and a review of the work of Protestant home missions to Catholic immigrants.

RAFFLE DRAWING TO BE HELD WITHIN 2 WEEKS

Date Postponed Due To Lack Of Support

The drawing of the college raffle has been postponed for two weeks, Fred Kolatch '37, vice-president of Student Council and chairman of the raffle committee, revealed at the beginning of the week.

Originally, the drawing was scheduled for Monday, April 16. However, because of the meagre response of the students to the raffle it was found expedient to postpone it.

In announcing the postponement, Kolatch expressed great anxiety over the apathetic attitude of the students. "Unless the students take up within the next two weeks and begin buying the raffle tickets, we will have to postpone the drawing again," he declared.

Students Hear Ludwig
Lore Score Reaction and Fascism

HITS ENGLAND

Professor Litman Declares
Propaganda War
Menace

Divergent attitudes towards war were presented by the guest speakers, Ludwig Lore and Prof. Alexander Litman, at the second annual peace assembly held last Thursday at 4:30 before a crowded student gathering.

Championing an attitude of militant pacifism which must be adopted by all lovers of peace against the rising threat of fascism, Mr. Lore, who is "Behind the Cables" editor of the New York Post, declared that all attempts at neutrality are "neutral in favor of fascism."

"Propagandistic Attempts"

On the other hand, Prof. Litman appealed to the audience to disregard all propagandistic attempts and to think no longer of "dying for a country, but living for it." "We must clean our own house first," he emphasized, "before making any dangerous steps in the direction of foreign wars."

The meeting was opened by Irving Ribner '37, who turned the chair over to Eleanor Goldman '37, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Goldman, who was the first speaker, declared that problems of war and peace were of extreme importance to each student, and that a definite opinion of each function must be formulated by each one.

Describes Spain

He was followed by Dr. Lore, who described the present struggle in Spain and its ramifications upon war conditions throughout the world. A great number of generally unknown facts were re-

(Continued on Page 3)

4 CENT SOCIAL TO BE HELD TONIGHT AT 6:30

Freshman To Be Hosts At Unusual Event

The Freshman class will host a social evening to the students of this Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the Dormitory Building.

The sum of four cents will be charged at the door for admission. S. Krutman '38, president of the Freshman class, will be in charge of the evening. He has arranged for a number of interesting games and a variety of refreshments. The social is expected to be a very successful one.

The Commentator

Official Undergraduate Newspaper of
YESHIVA COLLEGE

Published weekly
throughout the College year at Yeshiva College
Washington Heights, New York City

GOVERNING BOARD

MORDECAI GABRIEL ..... Editor-in-Chief
ELEAZER GOLDMAN ..... Managing Editor
ARNOLD MILLER ..... Acting News Editor
ABRAHAM NOVICK ..... Sports Editor
LESTER M. SILVERMAN ..... Business Manager

NEWS STAFF

Paul Burstein '39 ..... Allan Mirvis, '39
Max Crandell '37 ..... Harold Polikoff '39
A. Leo Levin '39 ..... I. B. Rose '38

ASSOCIATE NEWS STAFF

Abraham Avrick '40 ..... A. Richman '40

BUSINESS STAFF

Morris Schnall '40 ..... Myer Seigel '40

The Executive Committee of Student Council assumes full responsibility for all statements contained in the editorial columns of this newspaper.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY National Advertising Service, Inc.

Published at the Bergen Press Corporation,
12 South Dean Street, Englewood, N. J.

1936 Member 1937
Associated College Press

Volume V. APRIL 28, 1967 No. 10

Fetishism of Law

The reversal of Angelo Herndon's chain gang sentence by the Supreme Court would seem to be but another in the recent series of decisions of a suddenly liberalized court.

What is significant, however, is not so much the fact that the Georgia statute was held to violate the Constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech. A similar decision was handed down in the de Jonge case, where a parallel issue was involved.

The important point to be kept in mind is the fact that no less than four members of the court upheld a law dating from reconstruction days, in flagrant disregard for basic civil rights.

Justice Van Devanter's minority decision reveals an attitude which lies at the root of the court evil, and is one of the strongest arguments for judicial reform.

The implications of the dissenting opinion can perhaps better be realized through the recollection of the recent conviction of seventeen hospital workers for a sit-down strike. In this case, as in the Herndon case, an obsolete law, hopelessly outdated, and almost buried in musty legal archives, was resurrected and invoked against "anti-social" tendencies.

The danger inherent in this sort of procedure is that which has in fact materialized in not a few Supreme Court decisions within the last few years.

Law has been regarded as something static, which becomes, once passed, a thing indefinite and inexorably binding.

The fact that society itself is not unchanging is an extraneous consideration for men of Justice Van Devanter's mind. For them, discrepancies between the order of things and anachronistic laws do not exist.

The natural consequence of such an attitude is the stand of the minority in the Herndon decision, which held that since the 1867 laws was "specific enough", this was sufficient ground for making it operative under totally new conditions seventy years later.

This basic question of approach is the one important issue on which the court proposals must be debated. Are we to submit to this fetishism of law on the part of judges, or are we to put social and economic considerations first?

The question is not for us to answer, but one thing cannot fail to burden us with doubt:

More than a likelihood exists that but for the judicial controversy and the accompanying change of attitude of the court, Angelo Herndon might today be doomed to a lifetime of servitude on a Georgia chain-gang.

Buy Your Shekel

In a few months, the Zionist Congress will again convene. Already, the various parties in the Zionist movement are launching their Shekel campaigns in an effort to secure as many delegates as possible. The fact that to vote for delegates one must first purchase a shekel will of course spur the usual number of conscious partisans to buy shekalim.

Yet this year, there is an incentive for purchasing the shekel which should overshadow any particular interest. This year it is the broadest problems of Zionism rather than those problems arising from conflicting attitudes within the Zionist movement which will, of necessity, dominate the Congress.

Never in recent Jewish history has Palestine assumed the major position in Jewish life which it does today. For millions of Jews in Poland, Palestine is no mere dream or attractive prospect; it is actually their only haven of refuge from economic futility and Endek pogroms. Palestine has become the last hope of existence for a great percentage of the Jewish population in Europe.

At this very moment, however, our work in Palestine is threatened with a blow which might seriously limit its possibilities of expansion. The plan for the division of Palestine which is reported as the probable proposal of the Royal Commission, or any plan of similar nature, threatens to reduce Zionism from a vast project of national rehabilitation to a mere colonization undertaking.

At a moment when the material life of European Jewry is being completely disintegrated, Palestine must serve as a haven for a maximum number of Jews. A curtailment of Palestinian growth means the removal of the only possible plan for the future existence of our people.

The crisis must find complete solidarity in the ranks of world Jewry. The Zionist Congress must be in a position to take its stand on the present situation as the representative of a unified Jewish opinion. It is difficult enough to withstand the trickeries of British colonial policy. Without the confidence and strength born of the knowledge that they have the solid backing and active cooperation of world Jewry, our leaders are severely handicapped.

There is but one way in which we can indicate our support of the world Zionist organization. We must become active members by buying our shekalim and casting our votes in the forthcoming election.

As Zionists of a definite point of view, it is, of course, incumbent upon us to vote for that party which represents our attitude. The duty of purchasing a shekel however, is our fundamental duty as Jews. We cannot neglect it without admitting our complete apathy toward the problems affecting our very existence.

It is comparatively easy to prate of abstract Judaism. What will we do now that we are called upon to show by our action whether or not we are prepared to participate in the Jewish struggle for life.

REVIEWS

By HAROLD POLIKOFF

Friedrich Wolf, who is best remembered for his "Sailors of Cattaro," has written a new play entitled "Professor Mamlock," which is being presented in English at the Daly by the WPA's Jewish Theatre Project. The work tells of the problems which beset a Jew in Nazi Germany who finds his every ideal smashed by the Hitlerites and who is unable to fight back because of his aversion for radicalism. Professor Mamlock's downfall is due more to his own "patriotism" than to the brutal acts of the Storm Troopers.

Within the past few years, Broadway theatres have housed a number of plays which have attempted to analyze the problems brought about by Nazism. Although all of these works were motivated by a spirit of indignation and protest, none of them proved to be over-convincing.

"Professor Mamlock" is another of these plays. The audience is in accord with Mr. Wolf when he points out that Hitlerism is something horrible; a good portion of that audience is in total agreement with him when he says that the solution to the world's ills lies in communism. Yet, the spectator learns nothing that he didn't know before 8:40 that evening, nor does the play excite him to the extent where he is willing to take part in the fight against fascism. For these reasons we must conclude that the play does not gain its ends.

The story deals with a famous Jewish surgeon who, like many other German Jews, clings desperately to his beloved fatherland in whose name he was crippled. He won't believe that his German Republic will sell out to the Nazis. At the same time he is anti-communistic. When Hitler comes to power and Professor Mamlock is unceremoniously beaten, disgraced, and discharged, he becomes hopelessly confused. His only way out is suicide, but he dies with the realization that his communist son is on the right track in the fight against fascism.

A serious handicap to the production is the fact that, with the exception of Morris Strassberg who plays the title role, the players are extremely unconvincing. Some over-act, some give the impression of being somnambulist. The settings are so-so.

MAYBE I'M WRONG

By ELEAZER GOLDMAN

"Justice Roberts' capitulation to the insidious doctrines of the Washington regime did not, however, mark the collapse of the last bulwark of the traditional American ideal of liberty. On a historic day in April the D. A. R. discovered at its annual convention that its membership had increased during the previous year. This could only mean that the American people had turned from the subversive study of economic problems to tracing the roots of their genealogical trees. America was back on its way to normalcy.

"Before long, such dangerous slogans as 'industrial democracy' and 'New Deal' which had threatened to undermine the security of solid American institutions came to be regarded as the mad idiosyncrasy of a strange and incomprehensible period. Once more America was armed for progress with the 'Farewell Address' and with the 'national recollection' which is the foundation of national character."

Immediately after the D. A. R., following in the footsteps of their ancestors, overthrew the Roosevelt tyranny, they set themselves to the task of saving the initiative and enterprising spirit of American manhood from being corrupted by such activities as the PWA and the Home Relief. The funds originally intended for these sources were deflected towards a new national project of placing markers on the graves of all the heroes who died in the American Revolution.

The fact that by this time the number of heroes of the revolution had greatly increased made this project consume all the PWA funds so that the D. A. R. found itself unable to carry out its epochal undertaking of balancing the budget. A militant minority began agitating for increased taxation in order to attain this end.

It was then that X. Y. arose to the occasion by delivering an impassioned address in which she declared that taxation would interfere with the liberty of property owners. "Would you discriminate against owners of property by forcing them to pay taxes while millions of penniless unemployed would be exempt? You are undermining the very sanctity and priority of property for which the American Revolution was fought."

X. Y. saved the principle of American liberty, but the problem of balancing the budget had still to be met.

EXCERPTS FROM D.A.R. HISTORY, 1967.

In The Editor's Mail Box

To the Editor of the Commentator:
Dear Sir:

For several weeks now, the sale of shekalim has supposedly been going on. The various Zionist parties have been trying to sell their several shekalim in an effort to increase their representation at the Congress.

It is of the utmost importance for the development of Palestine in the proper spirit of Torah that the Mizrachi party make itself actively heard at the Congress. This it can do only by sending a properly large delegation to the Congress. This, in turn, hinges on the number of shekalim the party can sell.

Why, then, do we not see more of an effort made in the Mizrachi to publicize the ideals of Mizrachi and to make students Shekel and Mizrachi-conscious? N. G.

To the Editor of the Commentator:
Dear Sir:

When an outsider of great importance visits Yeshiva, he carries away with him a general impression of the school in general and of the students in the school.

I looked on with deep regret at the way the students carried on at the Parnas Assembly last Thursday. Many students sat in the rear of the hall and made such noise that it was impossible even to an elementary school gathering, the more so, considering the gravity of the occasion.

Most to blame were upper classmen, who should have known better. G. J. L.

By ABE NOVICK

As winter passes from the Yeshiva scene, and the touch of spring is felt by one and all, so do sports begin to disappear from the campus, and travel the way of all flesh.

While loitering about the 4th floor of Reits Hall you noticed that the vest of Herman Engleberg seemed rather blank, where formally a beautiful key resided in peace. The pretty neck of one B. S. is now the home of said article. Herman is a bright little boy, but it hits us all, big and small.

The new season has even affected our staid faculty. Jokes and anecdotes are beginning to be heard in every classroom.

Doctor Brody likes Les Silverman's. "From the Sticks". The jokes from other colleges.

the once mad, as patients, the main stockholders of the now defunct United States bank. He received twenty-five dollars for each visit, merely attending to minor ailments. The large fees

Doctor Flink is becoming a shachon. He is recommending wealthy girls to Dave Gordon.

Doctor Margalith meets his junior class every Thursday afternoon. The class is now studying fascism in Italy. The Doc recently came forth with the following statement. "Whatever success fascism has obtained in the European countries, it has definitely suffered two set backs in this country. First, the peace conference last Thursday here in Yeshiva College, and secondly, the ancient holiday of Lag B'Omer this ~~morning~~ Thursday."

Yeshiva To Play Friday Afternoons If Plans Materialize

Gold has himself applied for permission to use either Inwood Park or Van Cortlandt Park as a home field in the intercollegiate games now under consideration. Should his efforts succeed and should he receive the cooperation he seeks Yeshiva will play its games on Friday afternoons between 2:30 and 5:30 p.m.

By MORRIS LANDES

"If Hollywood can do it," determined Sophs exclaimed, "so can Yeshiva College. What has Hollywood that Yeshiva hasn't—besides pretty maids?"

Camarade Poupko, the perpetrator of this vehicular scheme insisted on demonstrating his riding skill on the side-street where the tenderfeet were pushing their bikes around. He succeeded in unseating Leo Levin and overturning "Johnny" Mirvis.

And, what a time the apprentices had of it. They spent most of their hour watching the Ford go by. Every cabbie and automobile owner in upper Manhattan took this opportunity to display his machine before the onlooking Yoram-Deah-ahs. While in his mouth, "reckless" Ben Krotzman dared the wrath of truck drivers as he flew, ever so swiftly, to caution them of their victims but for the grace of G-d.

There were spills and falls aplenty. Your wife—either because his feet were too long or his knee too short—sprung some badly bruised knees before the expected pain in the other regions of his anatomy. Ben Shogham counted less every year the

All aspirants for a berth on the tennis team must appear on the Bennett Courts, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. It was announced today by A. Kaplan, athletic manager. All individuals not appearing, will absolutely not be permitted to play on the squad.

BASEBALL SQUADS TO PRACTISE MONDAY

The first baseball practice session will be held indoors in the gym Monday evening, May 3, at 7:30 p.m. All squad members must attend this session. Positions are still open on the squad and those applying for positions may also attend the practice, the baseball manager announced.

The following are the members of the squad to date:

Abrowitz '39, Avrick '40, Burstein '39,
L. Charney '38, Eisenberg '38, Engelberg
'37, Garber '40, Goldkling '38, Henken '37,
A. Kolstch '37, F. Kolstch '37, Kovalsky
'39, Lester '38, Levy '37, Lichtenstein '38,
Lipchutsky '38, Malina '39, Merrin '39,
I. Miller '39, S. Miller '39, Novick '37,
Pauked '40, H. Rikner '38, I. Rikner '37,
Roe '38, Rosenman '37, Schwartz '39,
Sklarer '40, Solomche '37.

Semi-Finals And Finals Completed During Past Week

Abrowitz was too powerful for his red-headed opponent, throwing him out of position and off balance with well placed shots. Newman couldn't quite fathom his adversary's style of play and went down to defeat.

The highlight of the tournament was the game between Avrech '40 and Newman, who met in the semi-finals. The contest was closely fought, and with the score 19-19, Newman scored two consecutive points to come out victorious.

In the other semi-final Abrowitz met A. Kaplan '37 with the former the victor by the score of 21-1, 21-5.

Fraternity Refuses To Lose Morning Sleep

The alarm was installed a few days after the radio of Douglas Gardiner had been stolen from his room.

Not long ago, the warning bell rang early in the morning, and pajama-clad men, armed with paddles, knives and baseball bats, charged down from the third floor sleeping quarters.

"Don't shoot," cried familiar voices, and two brothers scrambled to their feet from the floor, admitting that they had cried "wolf."

As soon as all the fellows had gone back to bed and quieted down, the alarm rang a second and third time.

"Aw, to hell with 'em," mumbled most of the sleepy brethren, and they turned over in bed—all but Gardiner, who didn't want to be a two-time victim. He tore down the stairs three at a jump, reaching the ground floor in time to see a shadowy figure flit across the street and leap into a waiting car. Occupants of second floor rooms found their wallets lightened by $25.

doms were now leading in the flight for peace. This was a reversal of the traditional condition which found the student always an eager enthusiast for war.

"Students must live for their country by unanimously participating in the correction of social and economic conditions in America," the speaker declared. "Internationalism must promote participation in foreign affairs."

By Joe Wilson

Pinch-hitting for Lester Silverman, who made the very sad mistake of picking up a hot piece of glass tubing by the hot end.

Best radio bets:—12:15 P. M. Peace talk from Europe: When will it ever be safe to use trench-helmets for wash-basins? 1:15 P.M. Fashion talk: How to engrave your initials on your own private ice-cubes. 1:45 P.M. Safety lecture: Should swimming pools have fire escapes? 2:00 P.M. Thrift talk by nine-year-old child: How I earn a fair income eating spinach and taking castor-oil. 2:30 P.M. Lecture on hygiene: Why a water pitcher can perspire without getting B.O. 3:00 P.M. Patriotic address by the Black Legion: How to be a 100 percent American with five percent off for cash.

We'll begin with a box and the plural is boxes;
But the plural of ox should be oxen, not oxes.
Then one fowl is a goose, but two are called geese,
Yet the plural of moose should never be meese.
You may find a lone mouse or a whole nest of mice,
But the plural of house is houses, not hies.
If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth,
Why should not the plural of booth be called beeth?

Quite unlike Harvard, Yale, and other big-shot colleges, is William and Mary, second oldest in the United States, which announces recipients of honorary degrees several months in advance. At Harvard, Yale, etc., herculean efforts are made to keep the names of those so honored a secret till the moment the degrees are conferred.

Future doctors take notice!
Young medicos who may feel their field is overcrowded should know that in the United States today there are only 125 physicians to every 100,000 population, compared with 173 M.D.'s per 100,000 in 1900.

Add tough breaks: "Skippy" Gold walked into class one fine day a mere twenty minutes late. Dr. —, who by some rare chance did not call the roll that day, promptly marked him late, thus giving him one-half an absence. Ten minutes later, Skip was asked to leave the room for talking at an inopportune moment, and was then marked wholly absent for the period. For coming to class for ten minutes, he received a full "cut" while those who didn't bother to come at all got no absence against their names at all. (Tsk, tsk, no justice).

To help meet its educational expenses, so lofty an institution as Harvard University once enjoyed the municipal ferrying privileges across the Charles River. (Maybe history could repeat itself here, maybe?)

Called from some college comics:
"An intelligent girl is one who knows how to refuse a kiss without being deprived of it." Communist replied: "Why do you give beauty and stay away from intellect?"
Answer: Class hatred, Stagnant

Experiments conducted at the University of Southern California and elsewhere have shown that the use of a small amount of a certain type of material can greatly increase the efficiency of a certain type of material.

Capital Typewriter Shop
567 West 181st Street
Wadsworth 7-4040
Sold, Repaired, Exchanged
Rented $2.00 Per Month

FURNISHED ROOMS
In Private House with Garden.
All improvements. Board if desired. Strictly kosher. Call after 3 P. M.
GOLDSMITH, 1811 Fallside Pl.
Foundation 2-6879

TROIANO'S
MASTER OF THE
TONSorial ART
1480 St. Nicholas Avenue
(Near 185th St.)
HAIRCUT . . . 25c

LOUIS G. GITLIN
DISPENSING CEMENT
187th St. & Audubon Ave., N.Y.
Phone Wadsworth 2-6155

Empress Theatre
181 st and Audubon ave.
Wed., Thurs., April 22, 23
"North of Nome"
Also
"Along Came Love"
Fri.-Sun., Apr. 26, May 1, 2
"Champagne Waltz"
Also
"Bulldog Drummond Escapes"

JOE POLIN'S
CANDY STORE AND LUNCHEONETTE
(Right Around the Corner)
Audubon Ave. & 187th Street

WHISKERS
hide Dirty
Shirts
SO DO OUR TIES
THE CO-OP STORE
Sells 'Em

THE CO-OP STORE
ANNOUNCES
That It Has Secured the Agency on the Famous
ALDERWOOD SWEATERS
See These First
Quality Sweaters
Yeshiva College
Co-op Store
Fourth Floor Main Building

*On either side of the Great Divide . . . men like 'em
. . . women like 'em*

In the Big Town, you see lots of empty packages. That means that pack after pack of refreshingly mild, good tasting Chesterfields have satisfied hundreds... maybe thousands.

Way out in Goose Creek Junction, you meet up with men who tell you that Chesterfields are milder... you see ladies who tell you how good they taste and what a pleasing aroma they have.

*Going East . . . or going West
... Chesterfield satisfies 'em.*