

Debating Team Lists Schedule

The Yeshiva College Debating Society is going to compete in the Metropolitan Pre-Season tournament which it won last year, and has so far scheduled the following debates: Fordham, November 2; Brooklyn, November 9; N.Y.U., November 16; Columbia, November 23; C.C.N.Y., November 30; and Queens, December 7. All of these have been scheduled as home debates.

Among the changes, which this year's executive council is planning, are the scheduling of most debates in the Oregon style instead of the conventional type debate, debates in four different languages besides English, and debating tours to other campuses in New England and the Southern States, scheduled for the latter part of February, 1951.

Announce Plans For '51 Masmid

This year will mark the twentieth anniversary of Masmid's publication, announced Joshua Hertzberg '51, editor-in-chief. This year's staff consists of Boris Rackovsky '50, graduate advisor; Gerald Krakower '51, and Berry Ginsburg '51, photography editors. Maurice Lamm '51, Gustave Solomon '51, and Philip Finkelstein '51 are literary editors.

The issue will include a history of the graduates of Yeshiva College of the last twenty years, and all the regular Masmid features.

The cost of the '51 Masmid will range from between $3,000 and $3,500, more than any previous issue, Mr. Hertzberg stated.

Math Club Initiates Season With Talks

A lecture on "The Rudiments of Vector Analysis" was given by Irwin Wenger '51, vice-president of the Math Club, at a meeting held on Monday night, October 23. At the first meeting of the club on Wednesday, October 18, Azriel Rosenfeld '50 spoke on "An Introduction to Modern Algebra."

Gustave Solomon '51, president, announced that this year's general lecture topic will be Modern Algebra. There will also be specialized lectures on "The History of Mathematics," "Probability," and "Theory of Numbers."

The next lecture will be given on Monday evening, October 31, by Aaron Lieberman '51 on the topic of "Probability."

Eranos

Eranos, the classical society of Yeshiva College, will open this year's program of lectures and informal discussions with a talk on "Modern Aspects of Classical Art," to be given by Professor Maurice Chernowitz.

The lecture to be held on Monday evening, November 6, in the Dorm Social Hall will be accompanied by a showing of slides.

T.I. Registration Shows Increase

"The Teacher's Institute has undergone a natural growth during the last five years which has seen the student body grow from 200 students 5 years ago, to 298 registered students this year", stated Dr. Hyman B. Grinstein, Teacher's Institute registrar.

Eighty new students, the majority of whom are enrolled in the third year, have increased T.I. enrollment seven percent over that of last year.

Dr. P. Meltzer, Dr. Katz, and Rabbi Korf, instructors in Bible, Mishnah, and Talmud respectively, have been added to the faculty to meet the needs of rising enrollment.

Dr. Grinstein also announced the appointment of faculty advisors to aid the Teacher's Institute students in their religious and personal needs. The faculty members appointed are:

Class of '51 — Rabbi Samuel K. Mirsky.

Class of '52 — Professor Samuel L. Sar and Dr. Gershon Churgin.

Class of '53 — Dr. Abraham Weiss and Dr. Sidney B. Hoenig.

Class of '54 — Dr. Nachum Glatzer and Dr. Asher Siev.

Class of '55 — Dr. Solomon Wind and Dr. Aaron Greenbaum.

Class of '56 — Rabbi David Mirsky, Dr. Brier, and Mr. Chaim Liff.

S.C. Dental Plan Starts Operating

The Yeshiva University Dental Plan, under which students of any division of Y.U. will be able to receive voluntary dental care at reduced rates, is now in operation, announced Arthur Schneier '51 vice-president of Student Council. Arrangements have also been made with Dr. Abraham Walker '40, to have free dental examinations for all students on Sundays.

Faculty Notes

Dr. Arnold Lowan, professor of Physics at Yeshiva College has succeeded in obtaining solutions to two, heretofore, unsolved problems during the summer months, working as consultant to the Aerobalistic Research Department of Naval Ordnance Laboratory, Silver Spring, Maryland. The two problems known as "The two-dimensional Laplace and Poisson differential equations" and "The problem of heat conduction for irregular domains for both regular and mixed boundary conditions," will appear in publication shortly as a Naval Ordnance Laboratory Report.

Rabbi Joseph H. Lookstein, professor of Sociology at Y.C., has been elected vice-chairman of the Division of Religious Activities of the National Jewish Welfare Board.

Dr. Sidney B. Braun, associate professor of French at Y.C., is the author of recent articles appearing in "Symposium," a journal devoted to modern foreign languages and literature.

Dr. Louis F. Sas was the winner of the first fellowship of the "American Learned Societies" in a national competition in Washington. The award of $3,000 requires him to engage in a year's study outside his field. Dr. Sas plans to work in Cultural Anthropology.

Dr. Ralph Rosenberg, associate professor of German at Y.C., has been invited to speak at the annual meeting of the Modern Language Association of America to be held in New York this December. He will read a paper in the Main Germanic Section on "American Literary Studies in Germanic Cultures, 1873-1949."

Talpioth To Publish Yearbook In Israel

A Hebrew year book, under the name "Talpioth," will be published annually in Jerusalem under the joint sponsorship of Yeshiva University and the Rabbi Kook Foundation of Israel, announced Rabbi Samuel K. Mirsky, editor of the Hebrew quarterly of the same name published by Yeshiva since 1943. Rabbi I. L. Hacohen Maimon, former Israeli Minister of Religion, and Rabbi Mirsky will co-edit the new journal.

Rabbi Mirsky also reported that the Yeshiva University "Talpioth," has started publication of a series of hitherto unpublished manuscripts dealing with Jewish law. The first edition in this series is Hameiri's first book on Teshuva which was published recently under the editorship of, and with

Frosh Orientated By Dean, Faculty

An assembly for all new students, both freshmen and those entering with advanced standing, was held in Lamport Auditorium on Monday, October 9.

The one-hundred twenty students attending were addressed by Dr. Moses L. Isaacs, Dean of the College; Professor Israel Young, Director of Guidance and Orientation; Dr. Henry Lisman, chairman of the Faculty Student Relations Committee; and Rabbi Abraham Avrech, chairman of Yeshiva University Athletic Association.

Riets Hall Affairs Commence Tonight

The first of the Fireside Fantasia affairs, a series, of dramatic events of a homey nature, will be presented on Monday, October 30, at 8:30 p.m., in Riets Hall it was announced by Wilfred Solomon '51, president of the Dramatic Society. The affair will consist of readings of poetry, narration of mystery stories and humor, and various musical renditions.

The members of the committee for the evening are Perry London '52, Aaron Landes '51, Sol Steinmetz '53, and George Marcus '52.

Officers of the society for the coming year are Wilfred Solomon '51, president, George Marcus '52, secretary, Sol Steinmetz '53, publicity manager, and Alfred Solomon '52, theatrical effects.

notes by, Rabbi Abraham Sofer. The text is based on a manuscript which was found in the Vatican Library. Rabbi Mirsky has written an introduction to the work and added notes based on a second manuscript at his disposal.

Rabbi Mirsky further stated that fifteen letters written by Rabbi Isaac Elchanan, which were found in the archives of Rabbi Isaac Blatz (Yetzel Peterburger), have been donated to the library by Talpioth.

An autobiography of Samuel D. Luzzatto (Shadal), translated from the Italian by Dr. M. A. Schulwass, the concluding installment of an essay on Rabbi Moses Isserless (Ramah) by Dr. Asher Ziev, lecturer in Bible, and an article on the European Yeshivos by Dr. Mark Wisnitzer, professor of Jewish History in the Graduate School, are the leading articles in the next issue of Talpioth which is scheduled for publication this month, inaugurating its fifth year of publication. Other articles in this volume are "Self-government of the Jews in the Middle Ages" by Dr. Isaac Agus, and articles by Dr. Isaac Wolberg, Dr. M. Higer, and Rabbi Lippman.

S.O.Y. Prexy Names Executive Positions

The Students Organization of Yeshiva through its president, Mr. Harry Friedman '50, has announced the formation of the Chavrusa Committee under the chairmanship of Meyer S. Feldman '51. Sol Steinmetz '53 was named chairman of the Shalosh Smadot Committee, and a Convocation Committee, with Joe Feder '50, chairman, to conduct elections for Yeshiva class officers.

Mr. Feldman will also act as chairman of "Tat," the Yeshiva free loan agency, and the "Gemilut Chasadam" Committee.

Douglas Selected For Y.U. Award

Justice William O. Douglas of the United States Supreme Court was recently named to receive Yeshiva University's annual Morris Morgenstern Award which will be presented at the University's Charter Day Dinner to be held Sunday, November 12, in the Hotel Astor. Judge Stanley Fuld of the New York State Court of Appeals has been appointed to act as chairman of the dinner. He will present the award to Justice Douglas.

Judge Douglas was chosen for "his outstanding contributions in furthering humanitarian principles and brilliant espousal of our democratic way of life," Dr. Samuel Belkin declared.

Appoint Dr. Sorrel Chief Psychologist

Dr. William E. Sorrel, chief of clinical psychiatry at the Jewish Memorial Hospital, New York City, and chief of the Child Psychiatry Clinic at Lebanon Hospital, Bronx, has been appointed as consulting psychiatrist of Yeshiva University Psychological Clinic, Dr. Jacob Hartstein, dean of the Y.U. Graduate Schools, announced.

Dr. Hartstein also announced a plan for expanded psychological services to the community on the part of Yeshiva's psychological clinic with the launching of a testing program for children of neighborhood schools.

Scripta To Come Out Early in December

The next issue of Scripta Mathematica is scheduled to appear in December, announced Professor Jekuthiel Ginsburg, editor of Scripta. The issue will contain the conclusion of "Prince Rupert's Problems."

Dr. Ginsburg also reported that during the summer months Scripta published a book, entitled "Jacob Stieners Construction With a Ruler."

The Institute of Mathematics will conduct two public lecture series during the present year. The first series will be held at Teachers College, Columbia University. The opening talk will be delivered on Thursday, November 16, by Prof. William P. Montague of Columbia. The second series will be conducted weekly on Recreational Mathematics at the Joan of Arc High School.

Your Responsibility

You, the class of '54, constitute the largest group ever to enter Yeshiva College. This fact might serve at least as a partial proof of our assumption that the role of Yeshiva on the American Jewish scene is continually gaining in importance. No growth, however, is significant unless the members of the growing organism are aware of the responsibilities such a development involves.

We realize that we can only live up to our responsibilities if we receive the fullest co-operation of each and every student. No activity is the monopoly of a chosen few. Every undertaking is a collective enterprise. We count on you to do your share within the Yeshiva society through your participation in school activities. At your Freshmen orientation classes you have been informed about the various groups, clubs, and publications that enhance our school life. Join up with the activities of your preference for your self-realization through a common good.

With these thoughts in mind we wish you a successful and enjoyable stay at Yeshiva.

A Health Menace

The physical conditions of the lavatories in the old dormitory are rapidly approaching the point beyond which they could only be described as appalling.

Last year a series of repairs was begun, and never completed, which subsequently resulted in the general deterioration of the second and third floor lavatories. At present, there is considerable inconvenience in the use of the third and fourth floor showers because the shower room on the second floor has not been finished, and the previous showers have been removed.

Of greater concern is the fact that none of the dormitory lavatories are properly maintained. Paper is not stocked regularly and in sufficient quantities, deodorants and disinfectants are noticeably absent, lights are not replaced often enough, there is no, or at best, defunct heating, and the paint on the upper walls and ceilings is in an almost constant process of peeling.

This situation, in addition to the inconvenience and unpleasantness which it causes, is creating a serious sanitation problem. One hundred sixty-five students cannot use the facilities originally provided for sixty-five without a resulting health menace.

This situation is acute; if not corrected immediately, it may become epidemic.

The Height Of Inefficiency

Registration in all departments of the University reached an all-time high for inefficiency this semester. Originally scheduled to be completed in three days, it dragged on well into the school term. This situation was due to certain inefficiencies which caused great aggravation and unnecessary inconvenience to both students and registrars.

The fact that only one man was empowered to accept any monies and, moreover, that he had the job of correlating all registration led to an immediate bottleneck in the procedure. This was, further, enhanced by the "bankers' hours" assumed by his office, which were even more limited by the time spent at various committee meetings during those hours.

Perhaps the most distressing feature of registration, from the individual student's point of view, was the almost psychopathic high-handedness of the administrator involved. His arrogance, discourtesy, and general conduct unbecoming a member of the administration, has made him the permanent target of a righteously indignant student body.

It is our opinion that the responsibility for the resulting situation lies in the general administration policy only in a very minor degree. We feel, rather, that the source of the difficulty is to be found in the domain of this particular administrator. The problem must be remedied at the source.

S.C. President Reports:

Students Urged To Participate Completely In All Council Functions And Societies

By Aaron Landes

This year's Student Council was faced with but a minimum of problems to be met. There were no constitutional negotiations and no concessions necessary. As the year began, we knew where we stood. The school was continuing its laudable liberal policy of giving student government independent reign over its own affairs.

Two problems face us, however. The Faculty Committee on Student Affairs had a new chairman and Student Placement Service had no office. The first presented the problem of establishing a pleasant, congenial atmosphere wherein student problems would be properly solved by the committee. The second gave much more difficulty, for without an office Student Placement Service could not exist. The past two weeks were, therefore, taken up by Inter-Yeshiva Student Council meetings and a meeting of the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, at which steps were initiated to solve the problems. In my next article, I hope to have more concrete information.

Club Activities

Due to school's late opening, many student activities got off to slow, or late, starts. I urge the officers and members of all students clubs to get right down to work, plan meetings, lectures, and discussion, and try to achieve broader student participation. A function that no one knows about will not be well attended.

I should like to say a word of warning to all club officers and faculty advisors. A list of officers must be submitted to George Marcus '52, secretary of Student Council, by next week, and every activity or function must be cleared through the chairman of the Clearing House Committee, Morris Stadtmayer '51, before being scheduled. Any group failing to meet the above requirements will have its charter revoked.

In addition, all student groups are required to submit bi-monthly progress and activity reports to the Student Council.

Freshmen Orientation

This year, Freshmen orientation began with the Freshmen-Senior smoker which was followed, the next week, by a one hour discussion of all student activities in which Freshmen were urged to participate actively. They were also given a mimeographed sheet, listing all student activities with a short description of each. (Professor Young was kind enough to offer us his weekly period of Freshmen orientation for this purpose.)

As planned last year, S.C. is trying to institute a series of lectures on Jewish Philosophy and History. These lectures will be on the style of Fireside-chats and will take place after school hours. A tentative list of speakers (pending their acceptance) includes Dr. Samuel Belkin, Dr. Joseph B. Soloveitchik, Dr. Harry Wolfson, Dr. Nachum Glatzer, Dr. Moses Jung, Dr. Alexander Litman, and Rabbi Emanuel Rackman. It is hoped that this series will fill a definite need of most Yeshiva boys.

Your S.C. Representative

In closing, I would like to remind all of my fellow students that the Student Council is your organization. Your points of view, your gripes are voiced through elected representatives: your class officers. It is assumed that, what they support or oppose, you want them to support or oppose. Through student government the will and desires of the entire student body are expressed, not just the whims of a few individuals. It is your democratic right and obligation to let your class representative know where you stand on all issues. Student government has till now and will always follow majority rule. If you want or don't want a certain thing done, the problem is to get a majority on your side, not to have a minority force its will on the majority.

With the above in mind, the present executive council and Student Council intend to implement the will of the student body, despite any undemocratic opposition that might arise.

Fifty Flighty Freshmen Feted By Cigar - Smoking Senior Set

By Leon Kestenbaum

Behind the locked doors of Stern's Cafeteria on Monday, October 16. Time 8:15 p.m., the arrangements committee, Jerry Krakower '51, Dave Mostofsky '53, and Aaron Landes '51, preparing the spread. Pepsi-colas, Apples, Nuts, Potato Chips, and cigarettes. Last minute rehearsals. The strains of "The Merry Widow" emanate from the victrola, the doors are opened and Fifty Flighty Freshmen Waltz in. These are followed by a sprinkling of cigar-smoking seniors. After five minutes, only empty "Pep" Bottles, Castaway butts and apple Cores. Bill Solomon '51 M. C.'s.

The evening was officially opened with three-quarters of last year's quartette (George Marcus '52, Bill Solomon and Lacey Burack '53) performing the newly-discovered ritual of the benediction over the cigarettes. Phil Silverstein '51, followed with "Roumanian Rhapsody" and "Tzena" on the Harmonica.

Nate Gordon '51. He Tap-danced onto the floor roofed through a few bars of "Doin' What Comes Naturally," and tip-toed out.

The program came to a stop, momentarily, when a red-headed Dr. Fleisher lamented over the shortage of English Majors in the freshman class. The quartette followed and they in return were followed by Jackie Glickman '54 who performed several magical and sleight-of-hand feats.

Herb Dobrinsky '50, pattered for a few minutes, and then Lacey Burack performed a wedley of Polkas on the Harmonica.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

October 27, 1950

To The Students of Yeshiva University:

I wish to take this opportunity to extend my heartiest welcome to the students who are returning to their spiritual and intellectual home, and to the new students who are, now, being introduced to Yeshiva life.

It is, indeed, a source of spiritual joy, for me, to witness annually the ever-increasing student-body, the expansion of our academic life, and the growth of Yeshiva University.

Our student body represents almost every state in the Union, and many foreign countries. By your ability to study together, work, and play together you may be instrumental in ever increasing measure, to build an ideal intellectual home, and a community of scholars in the spirit of our divine heritage and American culture.

I hope that all of you will avail yourselves of the intellectual and spiritual opportunities offered within our four walls.

Wishing you well-being and well-doing.

YESHIVA COLLEGE

October 27, 1950

To the Students of Yeshiva College:

Yeshiva College welcomes its new students, new and old, at the beginning of this its 23rd year of sessions.

Our registration this year will just top 400 with approximately 120 newcomers to our midst. These last will quickly become part of Yeshiva College and will participate in all of the many activities of the school.

Let us hope that this year will be one of co-operation and achievements.

Athletic Manager Reports: Yeshiva Varsities Preparing Might For Arduous Season; Sports Program Augmented

By Steve Katz

When we said "so long" to Y.U. last June the basketball future of our alma mater did indeed appear bright. It sure looked rosy with only two varsity members, Captain Howie Danzig and Daniel Komsky, leaving the team via the graduation route. But a mass migration of remaining mites has resulted in a situation where only six veterans again grace Yeshiva with their countenances. The Mites' leading scorer Artie Stein is back for his last season of college ball. Marv Herschkowitz second high point producer is now a Junior and has added experience to his uncanny shooting ability. Joining these two stalwarts are past campaigners Natie Krieger, Rubie Davidman, Hillel Dryspiel and Enoch Novoseller. Newcomers to the Varsity are Freshmen Irvin Forman, Elihu Levine, Larry Stalman and Jack Kramer. It would seem that the fortunes of the Mites are dim compared with those of the powerhouse which Coach Sarachek expected to field when planning the schedule last June. At that time Duvvy Hartman was expected to return with his set-shot. But he has forsaken us for greener Lakewood. Hopes for a return of the jumping, but banished, Murray Mayer were high but he is now enrolled at C.C.N.Y., depriving the Mites of his outstanding defense, not only now, but for years to come as well.

Also expected to enter were several promising ballplayers who failed to show after a brief tussle with the administration. What I'm trying to say is that although the "Mighty Mites from Washington Heights" are perhaps not as formidable as expected, they will, nevertheless, be stronger than they have been in recent years. There is plenty of ability, height and experience in these boys who are favored with the tutelage of a proficient court strategist of Berne, "Red" Sarachek's stature.

The Mites will square off, after the annual alumni affair on Nov. 18, against St. Francis at the Sunnyside arena on Nov 21. The Terriers, one of the best teams in the area, may well prove to be the Mites' toughest opponents. The heighters will again tangle with Fordham, and Brooklyn who are giants on the metropolitan scene. Taking the court against the Sarachekers at the Needle Trades gym will be many of the Mites' old nemesis, plus several newcomers assuring thrills galore for Y.U. basketball faithfuls.

Added to Y.U.'s list of intercollegiate sports will be a Junior Varsity. The number of Varsity candidates was so large that this move was unavoidable. Playing J.V. ball will enable many boys to gain experience for future campaigns. This, as is easily seen, will be of greater value to all concerned, the Mitebabes will not be forced to waste time decorating the bench. Denny Geller, past Yeshiva court star has been named as coach. A schedule is now being drawn up.

The Y.U. netsters have already started practice for the tennis season which will not commence until next May. The tennis team was especially hard-hit by graduation, losing the whole team.

Coach Artie Tauber has also started preparing the Fencers for their dueling season during the next semester. Coach Tauber, a past intercollegiate champion himself, led the team through an undefeated campaign last term. The fencing team was least hurt by graduation and many newcomers are trying out.

The intramural program has been enlarged beyond the wildest hopes of all concerned. Planned for this semester is competition in basketball, ping-pong, handball, badminton and swimming.

All contests will be held on Tuesday and Thursday nights in the Y.U. gym. The dates for the swimming meets have not been definitely set at the time of this writing; they are expected to take place during November or December.

Besides the above sports, next semester Boxing and Baseball will also be offered to intramural competitors. It is hoped that this great variety will give every college student the opportunity to participate in at least one sport.

Mites Card Seventeen Games For Intensive Hoop Schedule

Team Opens Against St. Francis; Fordham, Brooklyn To Be Faced

A seventeen game basketball schedule for the Yeshiva Quints which will include competition with outstanding metropolitan colleges, was announced by Rabbi Abraham Avrech '40, chairman of the Yeshiva University Athletic Association. The varsity will again be coached by Bernard Sarachek, mentor of the Scranton Miners, of the American Basketball League. Sarachek will be aided by Monroe "Chili" Edelstein, former college and professional basketball star.

The season will be highlighted by games with St. Francis, Fordham University and Brooklyn College; three top-notch city teams. Other powerful aggregations against whom the Sarachekers will be pitted, include Queens, Panzer, and Upsala. Prior to its initial contest with St. Francis, the Yeshiva Hoopsters will meet the alumni in a warm-up game.

Although hit by the withdrawal from school and ineligibility of key personnel, Coach Sarachek expects to field a better team and improve upon last year's 8-9 record.

The Quints will play all home games at the gymnasium of the Central High School of Needle Trades. Preliminaries to the contests will be furnished by the Talmudical Academy, the Y.U.A.A. announced.

Edelstein Aids Yeshiva Coach

Bernie Sarachek, coach of the Yeshiva Hoopsters, is to be assisted by Monroe "Chili" Edelstein, the Y.U.A.A. announced.

Although new at Y.U., Chili is well-versed in basketball lore. He played high school hoop ball at Stuyvesant, and spent his college ball-playing years at L.I.U. Chili entered the Army Air Force and the Pacific Theatre of Operations, in 1943, and while stationed in Hawaii he captained the Hawaiian area basketball team in the Army Olympics.

Dryspiel Resigns As Sports Editor

Due to the resignation of Hillel D. Dryspiel '51 from the position of sports editor, the Commentator will operate indefinitely without the services of a sports editor, with the sports staff being placed under the general supervision of the news editors, announced Leon S. Levy '52, editor-in-chief.

At the same time, it was also reported that the "On the Sidelines" column, written in the past by the sports editor, will be discontinued. In its stead, individual opinion columns will appear at intervals under the by-lines of sports staff writers.

Stein Captain

Artie Stein was elected captain of the Yeshiva University's Varsity Team, the Y.U.A.A. announced. When asked about the squad, Artie stated, "We're a fighting team. Our toughest opponents this year should be St. Francis and Fordham. All I can say is that we'll try to make Yeshiva proud of us."

College Library Transferred To University's Pollack Hall

The Pollack Graduate library became the home of the Yeshiva College library, it was announced by Mr. Solomon Zeides, college librarian. It was also made known that the Mendel Gottesman Library has undergone extensive repairs, painting, and lighting changes.

Professor A. Margalith, acting university librarian, reported on the latest contributions to the college library. A rare edition of Erasmus was presented to the Pollack Library by Rabbi Jung. The medical library of her late husband was donated by Mrs. Abraham Wilensky, and Mrs. Mary Birnbaum presented two hundred volumes of French and German classics.

Prof. Margalith stated that the College library will be open every Sunday through Thursday from 1 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. and on Friday from 8:45 a.m. till 12 m.

Y. C. Faculty Adds Six New Members

The following six new members have been added to the college faculty, Mr. Morris Silverman, registrar, announced: Mr. Theodore Kallner, Chemistry Laboratory; Mr. Harry Lainoff, English Composition; Dr. Robinson, English Literature; Dr. Manfred Halberstadt, Advanced Latin; Mr. Morris Imerty, speech; and Mr. Helmut Adler, Psychology.

Mr. Silverman also reported that the college registration has increased to 385.

Congrats

The Commentator extends its congratulations to Theodore Steinberg '48 upon his recent marriage, and to Barry Eckstein '52, Eli Horowitz '49, and Zev Wander '53 upon their recent engagements.

Opening Meeting Held By I.U.S.C.

The Intra-University Student Council of the executive councils of the student councils of the College, the Teachers Institute, and the Yeshiva, held its first meeting on Friday morning, October 6 in room 424.

A single dormitory committee working under the I.U.S.C. was decided upon, the chairman to be a resident instead of a neutral outsider as in the past. This committee will also be in charge of the Dormitory Social Hall.

The council also reported that it is working towards the appointment of a student member to the committee of registrars which is in charge of stipends and scholarships.

Economics Society Previews Program

The Yeshiva College Economics Society held its first meeting of the semester on Thursday evening, October 12th, 1950. At the meeting, David Scheinfeld, '51, president of the society, outlined the society's forthcoming plans which include the publication of a journal devoted to economics, and a series of lectures to which students from neighboring colleges will be invited.

The group unanimously adopted a proposal by Dr. Alexander Brody that the society aid in making Yeshiva College a center in the dissemination of knowledge about Israeli economics.

Condolences

The Commentator expresses its sincere condolences to Ludwig Fleischmann '52 and David Woldenberg '53 upon the recent loss of their mothers, and to George Marcus '52 and David Kahane upon the death of their fathers.

"EASIEST TEST IN THE BOOK"

Everybody's doing it—

COMPARE CHESTERFIELD WITH ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

BEFORE YOU SMOKE THEM

...you can tell Chesterfields will smoke milder, because tobaccos that smell milder smoke milder.

AFTER YOU SMOKE THEM

...you have no unpleasant after-taste.

WHILE YOU SMOKE THEM you get more pleasure than any other cigarette can give you—that's why millions of smokers say: THEY SATISFY.
