Model UN Assembly Seats I. R. S. Group

Novoseller, Siegel Represent Philippine Republic; Introduce Peace Resolution In Political Council

The International Relations Society of Yeshiva University representing the Philippines at the Intercollegiate Model United Nations of the Middle Atlantic States, which this year was held at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Penna., on March 29-31, had as its delegates Stanley Siegel '52 and Maurice Novoseller '52. During the sessions, Yeshiva proposed two key resolutions, one calling for an unconditional cease fire in Korea and the other shifting responsibility to meet aggression from the Security Council to the General Assembly. Both resolutions were accepted.

In the Political and Security Committee, Siegel and Novoseller passed through a call for cease fire by a vote of 27-5, with 12 abstentions over contrary resolutions from both the U. S. and U. S. S. R. This resolution stated "Any condition to a cease fire in Korea is a potential obstacle to that cease fire, and nothing should be in the way of an actual cessation of hostilities in Korea."

In the U. N. Machinery Committee, Yeshiva's "Filipinos" Siegel and Novoseller, in their resolution calling for the strengthening of the United Nations stated: "Whereas the main purpose of the United Nations is to preserve peace; and whereas responsibility for action to achieve this purpose rests with the Security Council which has been made impotent by the veto power, therefore: we propose that if after 24 hours the Security Council has not effectively acted to meet an act of aggression, then the responsibility for such action should go to the General Assembly." The resolution was passed by a vote of 19-6, and 19 abstentions.

At the conclusion of the Model U. N., Yeshiva was chosen as being among the five schools from over fifty schools represented which contributed most to the sessions.

Graduate Library Features Exhibit On Atomic Energy

"Atomic Energy," an exhibition prepared by the editors of Life Magazine, which has been on view at the Pollack Graduate Library since Monday, April 2, will continue through Wednesday, May 2, it was announced by Solomon Zeides, assistant librarian.

The thesis of the exhibition is that science is truly international, and that atomic energy is not an exclusively scientific matter. More concerned with the practical use of atomic energy to date than with nuclear physics, the numerous photographs emphasize the importance of the layman's understanding the social and political aspects of this great new source of energy.

"Atomic Energy" opens with the seven scientists whose peacetime research led to wartime development. Then follow panels of Hiroshima, Nagasaki, Bikini, experiments with animals, radiation sickness and mutation. The second section is devoted to post-war use: the development of atomic power and continuing research.

The last section is devoted to the problem of atomic energy

Debaters Attend Two Away Meets

The varsity debating team, nearing the conclusion of its season, debated Pennsylvania State College, at Penn State, last night, and are slated to meet Vassar, at Vassar, tomorrow. Stanley Siegel '52 and Robert Rothman '52 represented Yeshiva in the former, while Siegel and Gil Rosenthal '53 are scheduled to debate tomorrow.

Both debates are on this year's national intercollegiate topic, "Resolved: That the Non-Communist Nations of the World Form a New International Organization."

Selective Service To Set New Dates

The Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America has received assurance from Col. D. O. Omer, General Counsel of the Selective Service System, that additional dates, not occurring on the Sabbath, will be provided for those unable to take the recently announced Selective Service System examinations on the days originally scheduled because of religious scruples, announced Rabbi Irwin Gordon, National Director. The three original dates, May 26, June 16, and June 30, all occur on the Sabbath.

control, involving the world sources of uranium, the mining of uranium, the Oak Ridge separation plant, and the possible diversion of atomic energy to use as a weapon of war. The exhibition closes with panels describing the problem of atomic energy in education, in statecraft, and as it is manifested in the ways of the human spirit.

The text of "Atomic Energy" is, in part, quotations from the famous "Report on the International Control of Atomic Energy" prepared for the Secretary of State. Photographs are drawn largely from the unique work of Life Photographer F. Goro.

T. I. Council Opens Drive For Records

A drive for the collection of old records for Israeli religious Kibbutzim has been started in the Teachers Institute, announced David Mogilner '52, president of the T. I. Student Council.

"The lack of records in Israel and the desire to enrich the already barren life of incoming immigrants should be of prime concern to all of us," stated Dr. Philip Meltzer, visiting lecturer of Bible in T.I., under whose guidance the drive is being initiated.

"Records of any type are welcome, but classical and cantorial records are being particularly sought," continued Dr. Meltzer. The records are to be brought to Sidney Lieberman '51 in the T. I. office. Plans are being made for a similar drive in the Yeshiva.

J. D. C. Secretary Talks At Meeting

"The Jewish community of North Africa is economically one of the poorest Jewish communities in the world," declared Morris Laub, general secretary of the Joint Distribution Committee, in a lecture entitled, "The Jews of North Africa," at an assembly of the Teachers Institute student body on Monday, April 9, in the Science Lecture Hall.

Mr. Laub, who is also head of the Joint's immigration bureau, and a graduate of T. I., described the Jewish community of Casablanca and the role played by the Joint in their daily lives. Thirty thousand Jewish children are served hot meals daily in an effort to stave off the famine that claims the lives of one out of two Jewish children before they reach the age of thirteen.

In connection with the lecture, Marty Lindenbaum '54, chairman of the Y. U. Drive, cited Mr. Laub's words as an added incentive for further support of the drive.

Bill Solomon '51 led the singing which preceded the lecture. David Mogilner '52, president of the T. I. Student Council, was chairman of the assembly,

Faculty Notes

Dr. Jekuthiel Ginsburg, professor of Mathematics at Yeshiva University, has been elected librarian of the American Mathematical Society, it was announced recently. This post has been filled in the past by outstanding mathematicians, including Professors David Eugene Smith, of Columbia, Raymond C. Archibald, of Brown, and Solomon Lifschez, of Princeton.

Dr. Louis F. Sas, assistant professor of Spanish at Yeshiva College, attended a reception honoring Vincent Auriol, President of France, at the Waldorf-Astoria on Tuesday, April 3. Dr. Sas broadcasted to South America for the State Department on Monday, April 2.

Dr. Philip Kraus, associate professor of Education at Yeshiva College, appeared recently on the C.B.S. television program, "Lamp Unto Your Feet." The program dealt with the effect of good foster homes on the social adjustment of the child. After a dramatic presentation, the panel, consisting of Dr. Kraus, D. Bernard, and Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, discussed the different aspects of the problem. Dr. Kraus emphasized the kind of devotion necessary to give deep religious feelings to the foster child.

S. C. Discusses Plan For Re-Negotiation

Hellerstein, Rozen Suggestions Include Co-op, Commentator And Representation On Committee

A report of the special Student Council committee suggesting a basis for re-opening negotiations with the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs was rendered at a Student Council meeting held on Wednesday evening, April 12, at 9 p.m. in Room 427. The report, dealing with three major items, namely: reorganization of the Committee on Student Affairs, the Co-op stores, and The Commentator, was submitted by Simon Hellerstein '52 and Bob Rozen '53, presidents of the upper and lower junior classes, who were appointed by the Executive Council to make the study.

Y. C. Chessmen Defeat City Team

The Yeshiva College Chess Team, in its tenth match of the season, defeated City College by a score of 4-2, in a meet held on Thursday, March 30, in the Dorm Social Hall.

At first board, David Steinberg '51 defeated Murray Bronstein of City. The other three Yeshiva wins were attained by David Scheinfeld '51, who defeated Ralph Levi, Barney Koenigsberg '51, who defeated Murry Burn, and William Millen '53 who overcame Marvin Rubenstein.

Pre-Med Students Hear Dean Isaacs

Dr. Moses L. Isaacs, dean of the College, spoke before the Pre-med Society on Wednesday, April 4, on the topic, "Practical Advice to Pre-medical Students."

In telling the students how they may increase their chances for admission to medical schools, he suggested that they concentrate on the science courses, but should not neglect the liberal arts subjects.

Dr. Isaacs' attitude toward the draft is that pre-medical students should not apply for a 4D classification, as this may endanger their chances of being admitted into medical school. He suggested that they should rather rely on the new Presidential ruling of draft exemption for superior students.

With reference to the student affairs committee, Student Council decided to negotiate for adequate student representation on the committee as a primary step in bringing about co-operation between S. C. and the Administration. On co-op the decision was to accept an advisor provided that proper guarantees can be the set up to insure that council's sources of income are in no way jeopardized. On the Commentator question, council agreed that all editorials are to be submitted to the Executive Council of Student Council prior to publication, as in the present agreement. The present agreement was reached with the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs in September 1949.

The report was necessitated by the statement made by Dr. Moses L. Isaacs, dean of the College, at a conference which he called for all S. C. members on Tuesday, April 4, at 5 p.m. in the presidential conference room. The members of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities also attended the meeting.

Position Explained

Dr. Isaacs maintained that the Administration could not accept S. C.'s decision to break with the committee, claiming that council reasons for the break as expressed in a letter to Dr. Henry Lisman, chairman of the committee were trivial and inconsequential. The dean further stated that unless S. C. cooperates, the administration would take drastic measures with respect to student funds.

Dr. Isaacs stated the committee's desire to look into the accounts of the co-op stores and an interest in managing the present Commentator editorial set up.

The dean's request for the re-opening of negotiations by council with the committee was elaborated on at a conference held on Monday, April 8, between Dr. Samuel Belkin, Yeshiva President, S. C. president Aaron Landes '51, vice-president Arthur Schneir '51, and Commentator editor Leon S. Levy '52.

Congrats

The Commentator extends its heartiest congratulations to Nathan Krieger '52 on his recent engagement to Miss Selma Kolatch; and to Miss Gloria Gleich on her marriage to Mr. Norman Horowitz.

Meet The Seniors

Cohen, Harry—One of four Yeshiva brothers, Harry rooms with one of them and can usually be seen flashing his loud clothes through the halls of Yeshiva, that is, except on Saturday and Sunday nights. His actions on these two evenings are a deep mystery and the subject of quite a bit of controversy in these parts. A member of Rabbi Shatzkes' class, Harry is a close friend of Rabbi Sacks and of Avrohom and, consequently, the much envied person who can enter Rabbi Sacks' class and the chem lab holding his head high.

Cohen, Sol—An East New York graduate of Yeshiva Chafetz Chaim and Chaim Berlin, Sol Cohen is Yeshiva's answer to Frank Costello. Aside from being afraid of Television, Sol is a man of mystery (especially on Saturday nights) when his friend Stan Gold always seems to be looking for him and never seems to find him. Sol, usually seen browsing through his books on Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Syraic, Arabic, Ethiopian, and assorted dialects, looks forward to attending the University of Pennsylvania School of Semitics where he will continue his studies, if he can keep his mind off "Margie."

Feldman, David—This world famous president and founder of the Interstate "BIM" Organization is famous for having found an English synonym for a ray of light. Due to his wide renown and unbridled influence, Dave's sisters "Bimah" and Miss Bim hold coveted positions as secretaries of various Yeshiva offices. Bim is the only synthesizer capable of attending both Yeshiva and T. I. simultaneously. This miraculous feat is accomplished only with this Californian's utmost efforts.

Greenfield, Murray—Starting out from the Slaughter Yeshiva, Murray crossed the Harlem River, registered in T. I. and is now a "Moreh Beyisrael." Murray spends his year commuting between Greenfield Park, N. Y., where his father owns a hotel, and Greenfield gardens in Yeshiva—otherwise known as "Machlaka Zayin." A renegade, who once ran off to N. Y. U., Murray has now decided to lead a cloistered life and spends his time in the Bio and Chem labs.

Heimowitz, Joseph—A very receptive fellow, Joe has recently served as the little cup for the big receptacle. His other accomplishments include graduating from T. I. and rooming with a certain prolific letter-writing individual. After fifteen years of education, Joe thinks he has finally arrived in his role as "jumping bean" for the Yeshiva Cheering Squad. Next year, perhaps, we'll have to go to the circus to see him.

Migdal, Benjamin—Ben, known by all as Mr. Five by Five, came to Y. U. after a hitch in the army (he got the purple heart) and has spent his four years in Day-School (except, of course, his frequent trips to a sunnier clime). After oscillating from one field to another during his last year of residence here, Ben not only majored in History, but finally managed to find himself. As soon as he saw the psychology film on the learning of a monkey, and heard of Epiphenomenalism, Ben knew that this was his field.

Moseson, Isaac—This Bronxite who came to Y. U. to major in History and to receive a rabbinic degree can generally be found in the Commie office, sleeping. Itzy, as his friends call him, is best known for his tall tales about arts and crafts and his not-so-bright sayings. This member of last year's fencing squad who found the knightly sport too strenuous now restricts his activities to running the business end of The Commentator.

Rakowitz, Myron E.—A T. I. grad with a summer at the Mirror under his gartel, Myron is already a junior mashgiach (dorm counselor) and strives to be a major one (rabbi). He thinks he has gotten this far by constantly asking questions, and then answering them. He has not been wrong yet. Myron is not a gossip, but he is acquainted with every rabbi, congregation, and ladies auxiliary east of the Rockies, and with 95 percent of those west.

Sanders, Maurice—A very likable fellow, especially at seven-thirty in the morning, Moishe is a counselor on the third floor of the main dormitory and is, of course, a strong advocate of

Off the Record

With mid-terms past, and final examinations only a month and a half away, we try to think of some means of alleviating much of the inconvenience which they have caused in the past. In connection with this, we recommend that a tentative schedule of final examinations be posted on the bulletin board by the second week in May, at the latest. This practice, which is followed by a good many other colleges, would allow students a sufficient amount of time in planning their study schedules in a way that would eliminate the sleepless nights, so needless but ever present, during the examination period.

The college office by merely moving up a task that must in the final analysis be done anyway would thus, in a manner calling for no extra effort on their part, be doing the student body a tremendous service.

Our Sincere Apologies

In the Purim issue of The Commentator this year an article appeared lampooning a member of the administration, together with a caricature of him. We realize now that this caused him a great deal of embarrassment to which he was in no way entitled.

We are truly sorry that such a situation developed from what was considered at the time a harmless jest. We find ourselves very much at fault for not having taken into consideration the possible results of our action.

We, therefore, offer our sincerest apologies to the individual who above all other administrators in the University deserves the respect and appreciation of the students for his efforts on their behalf.

Time Marches On

Statement on extra-curricular activities, Yeshiva College Catalogue, 1944-45:

"Through the social life of the dormitories, and in many other ways open to the non-resident student, Yeshiva College affords ample opportunity for furthering the extra-curricular interests of the student. Societies and clubs give scope for enthusiasts in various fields of interest, from current events and drama to science and health; while the several college publications provide avenues of expression for those inclined towards journalism and literature. The chess team and the debating team have established excellent records in competition among the colleges of the metropolitan districts. Through basketball, baseball, and other games, in both extra-mural and intra-mural activity, the athletic proclivities of the students are developed and given scope.

"The students, through their Yeshiva College Student Council, exercise self-government in the development of the many aspects of their college life, and while gaining knowledge, health, and recreation, acquire a fuller understanding and practice of self-guidance and control, and of co-operative endeavor.

"These many activities permit the student to consult his inclination and taste, while joining in association with his fellow-students, to the promotion of good health and fellowship, and the strengthening of the characteristics of honesty and true sportsmanship."

Statement on extra-curricular activities, Yeshiva College Catalogue, 1950-51:

"Although the curriculum is a crowded one, there are many extracurricular activities open to the students of the College. There are a variety of societies and clubs for the pursuit of outside interests, chess and debating teams, and several student publications.

"Intra-mural sports are encouraged. The gymnasium is open in the evening for supervised recreation."

Letter To The Editor

April 10, 1951

Dear Editor:

Pursuant to the resolution passed at a regular meeting of the General Organization of Talmudical Academy, on April 9, 1951, the following is sent to you as a "Letter to the Editor."

WHEREAS, an article, picture, and insinuations directed against a member of the administration, which were printed on page one of this year's Purim Edition of "The Commentator" were in our opinion, entirely in bad taste, and

WHEREAS, said article was off-color, insulting, and decidedly not in keeping with the jovial spirit of Purim, which was so well exhibited in other articles of the same issue, and

WHEREAS, the results of that article undoubtedly led to the creation of a bad name for Yeshiva University, with reference to other schools and organizations which receive "Commentator," and

WHEREAS, the article in question led to the resignation of a member of the administration from the scholarship committee, an event which causes great concern to a large number of students,

WE, the REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STUDENT BODY OF TALMUDICAL ACADEMY, feel it our duty and privilege to make known our stand, to wit:

1) We are in complete disagreement with The Commentator's taste in satire.

2) We believe that such an article had no place in a Yeshiva publication, even at Purim-time.

3) Once the article has been printed, we believe that The Commentator should do everything in its power to rectify the situation, in the form of apology, and any further manner of rectification that will lead to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

We further request that this letter be printed in the forthcoming issue of Commentator, in its entirety, WITH NO DELETION OR REVISION.

Very respectfully submitted, minyan attendance. Hailing from Philadelphia, Pa., where he attended the P. U. for a year, he was forced into being a Poli-Sci major. His field, however, is Hebrew education, and for reasons not concerning Commentator, he plans to study in the Hunter College Graduate School.

Schall, Noah—A cantor by rumor (he spread it) who hummed and uh-huhed his way through college, Noah is the only Y. U. boy majoring in Fine Arts. It is said that he is also the only student ever to have serenaded a professor into passing him (High C, of course). Author of the best-selling "Mi Sheberach," Noah is now preparing a "Kaddish" for June. But actually, he hopes to remain at Yeshiva, what with the increased interest in acoustics.

Solomon, Gustave—A voluminous examination writer and a Hebrew playwright of note, Gus is the fastest man around—with a pencil. Now a basement Masmid and a third-floor dorm scholar, Guth has gone through T. A., T. I., and the College, and received a real education on the outside. But when questioned about his future, Gus makes no comment and only flashes his February 28th smile. Always smiling, he may enjoy life. Incidentally, he's a math-physics major.

Spear, Arthur—A resident of the dormitory hailing from Dover, N. J., Arthur is a Sociology major who attended Yeshiva for two years and transferred to Teachers Institute. An ardent Ha-poel Hamizrachi worker, Arthur served as president of its Dov Revel Chapter and is usually seen posting notices of future H. H. meetings, dances, etc. A boy with ambition, Artie has made himself unique by being the only fellow in Class 5 of T. I. who attends Pinkie's Vav lectures.

Stadtman, Murray—A former Commie editor, Murray holds a monopoly on chastity and a permanent Sefira beard. Quite outspoken in his anti-social attitude, he nevertheless deals with love and unrelated problems in his short stories. He also deals with Nadelman, and, as a consequence, has become a hyphen in the Litmaniacal kingdom of philosophy and a partner in the Ich-Du Beziehung. Switching from T. I. to Mir to Rabbi Burack's class, and from English to Political Science to Philosophy, and from vegetarian to carnivorous, we wonder where he'll end up.

The Flowers That Bloom In The Spring, Tra-la

By Steve Katz

SPRING. Yes-siree, Spring is here. I feel it in my bones. I feel it in my heart. I see it. I see it everywhere I glance. And with spring a young man's fancy turns to love.

LOVE. Love reminds me of last year's tennis team. They constantly flirted with the love-end of the score. This season, I fancy, it may be a different story.

STORY. Story reminds me of . . . But perhaps we'd better skip that. It just ain't nice.

NICE. Nice reminds me of two items. The first is a certain female. The second is golf. Golf is not only a nice game but also a body building sport. It's not a bad idea to get more than a nodding acquaintance with it while still young and strong. It will repay you later by taking off some of those extra rolls of flesh which tend to accumulate around your midsection when middle age starts creeping up.

UP. Up reminds me of an umpire calling batter-up at a ball-game. Even at YU this call was heard again last week as softball intramurals got underway. Come out on Friday afternoons and join the fun.

FUN. Reminds me of swimming. Swimming ranks only second, from the top, on my list of enjoyable activities. What could be finer than a midnight swim after a long, hot summer day? Heck, right now I'd settle for a rock in a little brook to sit on and just let the cooling liquid slither around the toes.

TOE. Toe reminds me of football. But by then the weatherman has started to freeze us to death. He shows only enough mercy to spare us for the impending basketball season. And then it's nothing but ice and snow. Brrrr.

THE FLOWERS THAT BLOOM IN THE SPRING, TRA-LA, HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CASE.

Go Golf

Yeshiva University's rapidly expanding Physical Education Department has added golf instruction to its curriculum.

This instruction is designed to teach students the proper stance and swing to be used in driving a golf ball. Classes are held in the Y. U. gym, and light, plastic golf balls are used to avoid injuries.

Basketball Tourney Molded By Yeshiva

The first Jewish High School Basketball Invitation Tournament, sponsored by Yeshiva University, began Tuesday night, March 27, and concluded with the finals, copped by Talmudical Academy, Sunday evening, April 1. All games were played at the Central High School of Needles Trades.

Five local schools took part in the tourney including Talmudical Academy of Manhattan, Rabbi Jacob Joseph School, Mesifita Chaim Berlin, Yeshiva Torah V'daath, and Talmudical Academy of Brooklyn.

The five competing schools played for the Manischewitz Trophy awarded to the tourney winner, and the Circle Athletic Trophy, for the team placing second. Individual awards were given to members of the triumphant Talmudical team.

In the first tourney game, Torah V'daath eliminated Mesifita Chaim Berlin, 41-38. On Thursday, March 29, T. A. defeated Torah V'daath 43-35, while Brooklyn T. A. whipped R. J. J., 42-39, in the preliminary game.

Freundlich Most Valuable In the finale, T. A. of Manhattan overcame T. A. of Brooklyn, 53-45, to cop the tournament. R. J. J. beat M. T. V. in the consolation game, 36-35, to place third.

Charles Freundlich, of the victorious T. A. quintet, was named the most valuable player of the tournament and received a trophy.

Denny Geller, coach of the Y.U. Junior Varsity, was Tournament Director, and Bernard Sarachek, cage mentor of the Scranton Miners, and Yeshiva U., donated twenty-nine of the thirty expensive trophies, and took an active interest in the proceedings of the Tournament.

Won Fourteen Games Hyman Wettstein, who masterminded the T. A. cagers to their tourney win, and finest hoop season, considers his current squad the most "Closely-knit" group of ball players he has coached. His Mini-Mites broke nine school records this past season.

The individual scoring record of 186 points was set by Charles Freundlich. Teicher and Freundlich were tied for the highest individual totals of points for one game, with 23. Freundlich also set a new seasonal mark of 11.6 points per game.

T.I. Council Holds Mid-Year Election

Jack Freedman '52 and Dov Zeidoff '54 have been elected to the Teachers Institute Student Council, announced David Mogilner '52, president. They are to represent Class 5—Rabbi Wilofsky.

Other members elected are: Zelig Shapiro and Moishe Simon, Class 1—Advanced; Reuben Heller and Pinkas Lieberman, Class 1—Regular; Akibah Pipe and Aryeh Estrowitz, Class 2—Rabbi Greenbaum; Mordecai Zaks and Abraham Beyer, Class 2—Rabbi Siev; and Naftali Alpert '54 and Samuel April '54, Class 3—College.

Condolences

The editors and staff of The Commentator express their deepest sympathy to Abraham Kupchick '52 on the passing of his beloved mother. May he be comforted with all the mourners of Zion and Jerusalem.

Y.U. Library Gets Oxford Dictionary

The Oxford English Dictionary, in thirteen volumes, has been donated to the Yeshiva College Library by Mr. Israel A. Laster, a graduate of Yeshiva College, announced Mr. Solomon Zeides, assistant librarian. The set of books, is the "last word in dictionaries," according to Mr. Zeides. It traces the historical development of every word in the English language.

The donor, Mr. Laster, has also presented the library with the "Studies in Prejudice" series, in five volumes, and numerous books in the field of community organization.

Yeshiva Drive Reaches $750 In Campaign

The Yeshiva University Drive has collected $750 thus far, Marty Lindenbaum '54, chairman, announced. He also reported that the comparative standings of the classes have been substantially the same since the fund-raising campaign began.
