Yeshiva Friends To Convene At Astor

Students who received free tickets through the Concert Bureau are asked to see Irving Newman \( $8 \) within the next two days, Newman announced. It is the intention of the Bureau to join a number of cooperative societies, funds for which are to be raised from the patrons of the bureau.

Tickets for a series of concerts sponsored by the Student Council and planned for this fall and scheduled to take place on Sunday afternoons at 3:30, are available at Half-Commodated rates to students. The Concert Bureau will also offer reduced rates for small groups of students who wish to attend a theatrical performance together.

Chinese Students Appeal for Funds

Dispatch From Hankow Reaches Counsel

Gerard App 88, president of the Student Council, this week received a letter from students in China asking the Council to set up a students' organization in New York representing American Zionists at the present time we are working on certain contracts, and can expect quite favorable results.

The entire Jubilee Fund drive is Rabbi Irving Miller of Far Rockaway, who is an alumnus of the Yeshiva and is well-known as a Zionist living in China, representing American Zionists at the recent world congress held at Hankow, China.

Many of the most prominent state leaders attended the dinner. Among these notables are Governor Lehman, Head of Columbia, and Dr. Nicho- las Murray Butler, president of Colu-

T. I. Chagigah Schedules Night of Magic, Mirth, Moving Pictures

The seven-year lowest strikes every seven years. This year, on Thursday, T. I. Chagigah will be held at the Yorkville Armory, with the Student Council and the Student Union.

All students interested in participating in the program are asked to contact the Student Council for further information.

This Chagigah will innovate the use of costumes to better display the dramatic talents of the troupes. Murray Lieberman will, of course, continue to shine as the only instrument who can handle the electric stage settings.

The Chagigah promises to amuse and to be something new for those who have already been to the previous editions.
A VOICE FROM CHINA

Common intellectual endeavor serves to bind student units throughout the world no matter what the dividing physical barriers. Pursuit of a common goal gives us all the right to citizenship in an intellectual world of our own unadulterated by self-interests, free from warped, corruptive forces.

At a time when the crushing hand of Japanese imperialistic policy has plunged China into the throes of economic and political disintegration, and occummony, we the Chinese, in the native population, we cannot help but lend ear to the earnest appeal of our fellow students across the sea.

The threats to world peace in the Far East struggle are self evident to any student of world affairs. Even if Japan were to yield to economic pressure or threats of reprisals, the peace of the world would still be endangered by rival imperialistic powers who deem China a prize worth well bidding for and, if need be, well worth fighting for. The only solution to the problem lies in a unified and independent China. It is this aspiration that the students of China have been cherishing.

The Chinese student movement is gradually assuming new importance and gives evidence that its influence has been widely felt. In its attempt to rehabilitate a country rendered desolate, besideless ravages by the "civilizational" nations of the world, it has shown itself in a truly courageous light. Such initiative is on its own merit worthy of wholehearted support.

How much greater, then, is it our duty to aid a towering mass of humanity gripping what may well be its last few breaths under fascistic pillage and oppression. The Chinese students have appealed to us. As human beings and primarily as students we must heed their plea.

COMMENDABLE ACTION

Encouraging, indeed, are the recurrent concrete expressions of genuine interest in the furtherance of the Yeshiva ideal. We are, concomitantly, gratified to hear of the recent establishment of the scholarship and awards fund by Rabbi David Miller of Oakland, California.

The generous action is typical of a man deeply interested in Jewish scholarship and cognizant of the importance of a stimulus to intensive Jewish study. It constitutes, moreover, a realization of the necessity of fostering widespread scholarly endeavor along the lines of a distinctly traditional cultural nature.

Gauging from present student interest in the awards, we are certain of the success of the venture and the realization of its basic aims. We sincerely hope that this is but the initial step in more widespread interest in Yeshiva.

Editor of the Commentator

In view of the editorial, the policy and platform, the authors and editors of The Commentator have opposed to the "realization of the capitalist," the exploitation underdog of the capitalist, nevertheless itself is prior to the American way of life. It is not better to print one paper a month in a union shop than four times a month in a newspaper. It hasn't any news anyway, and its copies are eaten up by the machines. From the outset, rejuvenating and constructive criticism.

The last few issues prove this much to the better liability and prejudice of the swashbuckling editors-chief. He accrues and condemns a senior student of the Yeshiva and even after he was exonerated by a committee of tablets, that pressing his foolish foot, thereby defaming the committees, who 'all admit, are the best examples of honesty and justice in the Yeshiva.

To the Editor of the Commentator:

Dear Sir:

Please allow me a few lines to discuss the system and management of the University of Minnesota. There exists a clique, consisting of librarians, ex-librarians, and a few "leaders," who consider themselves privileged and exercise arbitrary powers of the library, and at the same time deprive the other scholars of their rights.

I think if this keeps up we will be able to publish a chapter of Tammany Hall in the library staff. I wonder whether something can be done about this.

Mish-Ugos By MISH LANDES

I often wondered how a columnist for the Post could rewrite his own piece of dross. Now, I know.

"Does Yeshiva need publicity? Then, I suppose, is the uneducated student immediately a Hebrew telegraph in English script to a friend, if Yeshivas are needed?"

A Brown freestone tried it with Hungarian and was immediately suspended on the institution plot by the local papers, the Times, the New York Sun, and the New York Tribune.

As I would never affect our dear Lorimer with such philological flaps.

And, the University of North Carolina broke into print by holding a student legislative body that minutely reviewed the State's biennial legislature, resolutions included.

Say, if there's any reason why a Yeshiva's public relations aren't in a perpetual rut.

Some Harvard profs have concluded from various tests that certain parts of their curriculum are too light before others when one falls asleep, according to the elders, is vastly more interesting, without waking out of the lights in an office hours.

And, Prof. Upas has seen hundreds of "Yeshiva" publications without a perpetual decor.

Thus, the best crank on the New "Chaim" I called this from the Case Tech.

Dilto: "No."

C. M.: Don't allow smoking here.

D. M.: It isn't that, it's just the principal of the thing.

And, the best crank on the New "Chaim" I heard one hand one to a freshman.

"No. 5/12-Million Dollar Prize was successful," he grinned.

Goldklang, Koslovsky, Averick To Face NYU Tonight

Season ticket sales being indicative of the enthusiasm of undergraduates for the varsity, a record breaking crowd is anticipated at the varsity game at 7:30 tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden. The ball season will be held at 8:30 p.m. on the home court where the Bowhoolgottas meet the New York University School of Dentistry.

Last week's fine exceeded expectations, it was, made known. The popularity of the sport was said to have increased in the hands of the Athletic Association with regard to seating the spectators. Arrangements were being made, however, to secure enough seats for the commercial and visitors.

The complete starting list for tonight's game has yet to be announced. Tentatively, Capt. Goldklang, Magier, Averick, and Koslovsky will start. The fifth man will be either Eisenberg or Silagy, the latter being favored.

Chinese Students Plea For Funds Received

... then, and refine human relationships.

But today in China scores of bombing planes daily fly over our country leaving death and destruction in their wake. Thousands of non-combatants in all our big cities are being killed and wounded, and in the stricken districts horrible sights of mangled bodies and heart-rending grief are to be witnessed.

The district of Wahan (where I live) has already been bombed and will inevitably be the object of future bombing. Winter is approaching. Many children have been made motherless and hundreds have been rendered home­less. Our city is the center of two hundred millions and it is to us they look for help.

I now, standing on the footing of a fellow human being and student, appeal to the generosity of the students of your college over the sea for help in this our hour of need. I am sending you the appeal of the Red Cross committee showing the way in which you can help us. I wish to assure your students that we shall be deeply grateful for any assistance which they may be able to give to the Red Cross.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) Sin Teh-Wei

STUDENTS VISIT Y. C.
Fifteen students of the Talmud Torah of the Beth Hillel Institute of the Oheb Zedek Congregation were brought this Sunday to the Yeshiva on an inspection tour by their assistant principal, Moses Leiter.

Leiter, a senior student in the Yeshiva, expressed the hope that a visit such as he conducted would instill into these pupils the importance in Jewish life of a Yeshiva education. A student of the Yeshiva addressed the group.
