Permanent Committee To Support Affairs Of Cafeteria

After almost two months of bitter strife and recriminations, the dining hall committee has decided to discontinue the official boycott which they had voted unanimously on Thursday, November 4. As a result of this a following an impressive mass meeting held on Sunday at 4:15 p.m. in the Dormitory Reception Hall, the largest turn-out of the student body was witnessed as the approval of the actions of the Yeshiva was heard by A. Leivo, president of the student body. The meeting revolved around the lifting of the boycott, and by at least ten votes to one the return of the concessionaire, Mr. Tenenbaum, under any circumstances. The meeting was well attended and was held in a formal manner.

The Editor of the Commentator

The benefits which accrue from the practice of preventive medicine are inestimable. Yet, in too many cases, the importance of this practice is overlooked or neglected. Preventive medicine is not only a means of avoiding disease, but also a means of improving health. It is the responsibility of the medical profession to educate the public and to create a demand for preventive medicine. The Commentator will be pleased to publish articles on this subject.

In this connection, it is of great importance that the committee establish now the true ownership of all disputed items attached to the dining room. A complete inventory of all property should be taken.

While technical matters pertaining to the dining room may have been neglected, nevertheless several important considerations continue to pervade. The prolonged silence on the part of the student body has not been unexpected, but it is hoped that the union will continue its investigation.

The proposed changes in the dining room regulations have not been without their share of criticism. We restate that the committee intends to implement these changes in a spirit of cooperation. The committee has been established with the cooperation of the student body, and we hope that it will continue to function in the same manner.

These are the reactionary forces which have been operating to prevent the success of the proposed changes. The students should be encouraged to participate in the decision-making process. It is important that the students understand the implications of the changes and the benefits that will accrue.

We trust that the students will take an active part in the planning process. The committee will be pleased to receive suggestions and comments from the students.

In the Editors Mail Box

Perhaps the best way to address the situation is to have a discussion between the students and the faculty. This would allow for open communication and would provide an opportunity for both sides to express their concerns.

Accordingly, the editors of The Commentator have decided to open a forum for discussion on this issue. All comments and suggestions are welcome. The editors will strive to provide a platform for open dialogue and constructive debate.

Yeshiva Quintet Scores 37-21
Triumph Over Bnai Israel

Sporting a revamped team, Yeshiva's quintet started the basketball season by turning back Bnai Israel in an exhibition game with a 33 to 17 victory at the former's court last Monday night. The game was a thrilling contest, with the outcome being decided only in the final quarter, when Captain Koslovsky sank two baskets, was Yeshiva assured of a victory.

In the first half Yeshiva held its own as a result of the outstanding shooting of "Shary" Jarot who gathered seven points. As Esterson sank a basket near the end of the second quarter the visitors unleashed a fiery attack netting two baskets. The ball kept under our hoop as the thundering whistle blew with Yeshiva leading 15-11.

As the teams returned Bnai Israel settled down and outshined Yeshiva with a brilliant passing and shooting to score nine points. Midway through the quarter "Gay" Koslovsky's beautiful shot from mid-court drew the applause of the onlookers. As the teams were heading down the home-stretch the visitors again kept crowding Yeshiva in its own court with Moskowitz, high scorer of the visitors, tallying twice. The wheel saw Yeshiva tramping off with a 23-17 victory.

of the student body, a representative of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and a representative of the Yeshiva faculty—thus fulfilling one of the most important and far-reaching reforms sought for by the students in connection with the restaurant concession.

Armed with this and with the final capitulation by Mr. Tenenbaum earlier in the day to the demand by the student leaders that the representative of the Yeshiva faculty be Dr. Samuel Belkin and that the clause requiring the leasee's consent to the choice of the faculty member be stricken from the contract, the leaders of the opposition (to the lifting of the boycott) changed their deter-mixed stand.

With the circumstances thus altered and when each class in turn was informed of the new developments by a committee including some of the former leaders of the opposition, which likewise pointed out the harmful ramifications of a continued boycott, the students voted to repeal the official boycott.

It was learned yesterday that the most important concession was obtained from Mr. Tenenbaum by Dr. Belkin when the former agreed to post a bond of $300 as a guarantee of his good faith. It is understood that if the committee sees fit it can penalize the concessionaire for any ill-advised actions and deduct the penalty from the bond.

The decision revoking the boycott thus brings to an end a situation which had become almost unbearable. Since the opening of the school term students had been forced to eat in their rooms or in various luncheonettes in the immediate neighborhood.

Skillful ...is the word

Skillful is the word that best describes Chesterfield's can't-be-copied blend

It is the RIGHT COMBINATION of mild ripe home-grown and aromatic Turkish... the world's best cigarette tobaccos... that makes Chesterfield different from all other cigarettes.

And it's the skillful blending of these tobaccos with each other... for flavor, for aroma, for mildness and for taste, that has made Chesterfield the cigarette in which millions of smokers find a new pleasure in smoking.
