TERMINATION OF FOOD TROUBLES SEEN BY TARAGIN
Grubers New Deal Policy Aims At Satisfaction Of Entire Student Body
At the first meeting of the Students' Dining Room Committee this term, Nathan Taragin, S.O.Y. Dining Room Manager, told the members that "most of the students' food troubles are past" and assured them that "with the full patronage of the student body, no further food problems would be encountered."

Mr. Gruber, new manager of the dining room, assured the student body that his primary aim was to satisfy the student's culinary tastes in regard to both food and price. With the care and experience as caterer to Camp R.J., and with the competent assistance of Mrs. Gruber, a qualified dietician, he feels sure that this high level can be reached.

An essential feature of the policy of the new Dining Room management is to help alleviate the monetary difficulties of individual students. Students will now be allowed to work as waiters during supper time to help pay for their board.

Members Draft Plans For The Coming Season As Regards Its Program
Addressing the opening meeting of the Jewish University Club held on October 14 at the Jewish Center, Leo Jung, Professor of Ethics at! the Yeshiva College, called upon Orthodox Jewish University students to recognize the importance of having as its purpose the strengthening of the ties of Orthodox Judaism of America.

Referring to the movement which "arose" among the Jewish University students in Germany in the nineteenth century, Dr. Jung urged the members of the Jewish College to study and learn the true meaning of "Torah-True" Judaism.

More further urged them to gain this knowledge in order that the Synagogues and demand rights which are theirs, same.

DR. D. SWICK ANNOUNCES MEDICAL DEPARTMENT WILL BEGIN WORK SOON
Medical Department Needs And Facilities Increasing With The Registration

The medical department of the Yeshiva College is being completely re-organized and will start examining the college students immediately after the close of the holidays. Dr. Swick, Medical Director, disclosed.

Due to the constant increase of students in the Yeshiva College, the needs and facilities of the medical service are being increased accordingly.

September 22, the new High School students were examined by the Yeshiva College Medical Staff. The records are at present a part of the permanent office records of the college. Future examinations are scheduled for today when heights and weights are to be recorded. Sunday the remainder of the medical examinations will be completed.

Morris Dembowitz '36 defeated Bernard Lander '36 and became president of the Students' Organization in one of the most hectic election battles ever staged on the Yeshiva scene. Squeezing in by a margin of three votes, he fulfilled predictions that the battle would be a close one.

Simon Novack Will Accept Post As Editor of Masmid

Simon Novack, elected editor-in-Chief of the Masmid by an overwhelming write-in vote, has definitely decided to accept the post.

Despite his repeated refusals in the past to be a candidate for the office, the students' faith in him, indicated by the heavy majority polled, has caused him to reconsider his decision.

Bows To Students

"In accepting this position", Mr. Novack said, "I am bowing to the will of the students. I feel that I am setting a precedent for those who will refuse requests to run for office."

Lack of time is given as the reason for his past hesitancy.

"Peace!" Is The Cry of College Students In This Country, Nation-wide Survey of Colleges Finds

(Trained Collegiate Press)

MADISON, WISCONSIN-The college youth of America definitely does not want war, and can be expected to oppose vigorously and actively any effort to drag the United States into the war.

The latest report of Associated Collegiate Press correspondents who have just completed a survey of student opinion on the subject.

Outstanding among the conclusions reached as a result of the survey are these:

1. While most American students are in decided sympathy with Ethiopia in the present undeclared war in Africa, opinion is divided as to whether the United States should join the League of Nations in the application of aggressor penalties against Italy, with or without action by a foreign power.

2. Today, more students than ever before are prepared to view with cynical skepticism the flag-waving jingoism and propaganda so successfully used to drive America into participation in the World War.

3. The good of books, pamphlets and magazines articles expressing the origin of past wars, and particularly the World War, has found a wider circulation among college students and instructors than among any other group of the American public as a whole.

4. The number of "conscientious objectors" and pacifists in the colleges and universities, both those who would refuse to enlist in the armed forces and those who are pledged not to fight for any reason, has vastly increased during the past few years.

What collegiate America thinks of war is best expressed in the following editorial from the Northeast Missouri, student publication of Northeast Missouri Teachers College. The article has been widely reprinted in the college press.

"The young people of to

As a measure to revitalize the foundation of human dignity, has been guarded by them as the apple of the eye.

The decision that Dr. Revel, one of the foremost Jewish scholars of the world and universally respected, has come to the conclusion that, with the flower of Jewish genius and character arrayed itself, is not only nonsensical, but also destructive to the Jewish mission at the heart of our faith in the idealism and sincerity of the Administration, we wish to officially quell in no uncertain terms the rumors concerning censorship of The Commentator. They are totally untrue, whether speaking of outright suppression or control opposed to them, whether the issues evolved around courses in the college or the official attitude of the college towards important Jewish problems.

While some college publications maintain literary perfection as their goal regarding all institutional problems that directly concern the student body. With a distinct goal in mind, namely, to work for the highest interest of the college in every possible way. The Commentator has faithfully presented to the Administration the reactions of the undergraduates towards all institutional problems vital to them, whether the issues evolved around courses in the college or the official attitude of the college towards important Jewish problems.

The Class of 1939, as well as to all nearer and upper classes. The Commentator wishes to extend a hearty welcome. Although the official greeting is a bit late due to intervening holidays, the college administration has formulated some plans for a few words of advice to all incoming collegians.

The Class of 1939 is indeed a fortunate one. In contrast to previous classes which entered an institution practically bereft of undergraduate activities, the student term will find a number of organizations.

NAZI OLYMPICS?
The revival of the Olympic Games at the end of last century aroused the world with a reborn spirit of universal brotherhood—a condition essentially based on the shared ideals of justice and fair play.

Today, however, the scene is marred by the fact that the Hitler government has injected race, religion, and politics into sports in general, and into the Olympics in particular, and has destroyed their "free and independent character"—a direct violation of the Olympic Code and Oath.

In 1933, when Berlin was first chosen as the site for the new Olympic Games, the Nazi government promised that no discrimination would be brought against Jews. Recent investigations by many amateur athletic associations have led to lightless proofs of Aryan prejudices. Only the other day, former Supreme Court Justice J. T. Mahoney, president of the A.A.U., the largest athletic organization in the world, announced that a two-year investigation, authorized by the Union had established the charge of racial religious bias in German sports and violations of the pledges against discrimination.

Open Discrimination

Time and time again, new disclosures of Aryan atrocities in the realm of sport are made public. One day it will be the shocking story of the murder of a Welsh player on a Silesian ballfield by a crowd of Nazi spectators. Or another day, it will be in the form of a feature entitled "The Spirit of Sports in the Third Reich" in which the author announces that he can see no positive value for our people in permitting dirty Jews and Negroes to travel through our country and compete in athletics with our best. The day will come when he will appear the story of how all German sports clubs were ordered to set aside the month of September for discussion of the Jewish question and to get the matter more plainly, for instruction in anti-Semitism.

Nazi Propaganda

Aside from these un-Olympic manifestations, it is only too clear that the German government is using the games as an organ of Nazi propaganda. The Nazis are unimportant as long as they ballyhoo and press-agent the Aryan ideology. This sufficiency of government propaganda. A report by Herr Adolf that Nazi exhibition will be in conjunction with the and that the exhibition will present a concrete image of National Socialism.

Year's First Practice Drill Reveals New Strength of Basketball Team

The initial practice of the current basketball season was held last Tuesday evening in the college gymnasium before an enthusiastic crowd of rooters. It was a glorious debut of the well-conditioned squad that greeted "first nighters," and even the severest critics could not withhold praise for this year's basketball prospects.

Early this fall it was feared that the varsity might be weakened by the loss of such stellar performers as Spike Goodman and "Herb," Koshar. These fears were allayed, however, after the first few minutes of practice, when it became evident that the team was ready to strengthen the weak points of this season's offensive and defensive barrage.

The regular reports for action included Lou Muss, "Red" Kasten, Moe Krieger, Max Levy, "Sonny" Eisenberg, "Ham" Greenberg and Captain Hy Aронoff.

The 1935-36 basketball year will officially open late in November. At present the athletic council is occupied with the task of filling out a schedule for the forthcoming season. It has already made contacts with several schools and succeeded in signing some of the toughest teams in the metropolitan area, including City College Evening, Brooklyn College Evening, Brooklyn College of Pharmacy, and Jersey City Normal.

When interviewed on the prospects for the coming year, Captain Hy Aронoff gave the following statement: "I believe that the squad this year is stronger than ever. The team is composed of the very best players, and I feel confident that we will win more games than we lost.

YSHEISHA "CHESS-SIRES" TO ENGAGE SETH LOW

Appropriations having been granted by the Student Council, the Yeshiva Chess Team is ready to mark upon another year of tournament competition.

Determined to stone for its sorry neglect last year, the club has elected two new officials, consisting of Mr. Potok '36 and Mr. Silver '37, president and captain respectively. They plan a radical reorganization of the club and have already arranged an intercollegiate tournament schedule, which embraces some of the leading colleges of the city, in addition to the Western Side Chess Club. Next Saturday night will see the Beth Low Chess team move its pawns across the board with Yeshiva College.

Club Rooms Secured

Headquarters for the Chess team have been secured, and will consist of the Teachers’ Room on the fourth floor. It is there that the weekly meetings to discuss chess strategy, and the club's policy in general, will be held.

A feature of every meeting will be a discussion by the president on the meaning of the term "chess." Students desiring to join the society should apply to any of the club officials.

KASTEN OUTLINES ATHLETIC PLANS

Eliehu R. Kasten, '36, Athletic Manager for the last two years, was recalled to his position on the basis of an unanimous vote of the student body. His overwhelming election denotes the college-wide enthusiasm with which Yeshiva sports fans have accepted the "New Deal" in the athletic policies of Yeshiva College.

Mr. Kasten has gone far since accepting the role of Athletic Manager in the fall of 1935. Since that time athletics were castigated with a humble degenerate state to a position high in the limelight of intercollegiate sport. A twenty game basketball schedule, interscholastic competition in softball, tennis tournaments with the ultimate formation of a tennis squad—these and other innovations were the highlights of the past season.

When interviewed by a Commentator reporter, Mr. Kasten disclosed that the basketball team was expanding by having two teams in actual competition, a varsity and a Junior. The first team will carry all regular varsity points, and the Jayvees will compete with the second team of different colleges. The President revealed that he had a "basketball map," and the Jayvee will carry all regular varsity points, and the Jayvees will compete with the second team of different colleges. He also described his plans for the formation of a bowling team, and will over the Metropolitan area.

1. Complete care of the sick.
2. Keeping of permanent medical records.
3. Complete treatment of student defects.
4. Keeping in daily touch with the Medical Adviser.
5. Correspondence with physicians about light cases.
6. Supervision and replacement of medical supplies.
7. Research as to the origin of student defects.
9. Arrangement for speakers and programs for meetings.
10. All those students who are interested in helping to maintain the welfare of the Health Club were asked to get in touch with Louis Saitow.

The committee expressed a vote of thanks to Morris Zelman for his work in establishing the Medical Society. He is at present studying medicine at John Hopkins University.

The election for secretary resulted in an overwhelming victory for Morris Werb '36, who polled a two to one plurality. His opponents, Max Crandall '37 and Wolfe Charney '37, polled together only half as many votes as Werb did.

Elections this year were accompanied by considerably more interest on the part of the students than formerly, declared Seymour A. Kornfeld, Chairman of the Elections and canvassing committee today.

"An over-active interest in school issues characterized what promised to be Ethiopia in America. After a few riots, however, the combatants realized the futility of war, and the election itself was most orderly," he stated.

Elections this year have been, in fact, the most orderly conducted at Yeshiva. Balloons were systematically distributed, and confusion virtually eliminated.
