Foreign Students on WEVD Discuss Common Problems

By Ben Amos At 12:05 p.m. on November 18, a radio program, which was taped a few weeks ago, will be broadcast on WEVD. It is part of the celebration of the tenth anniversary of Stern in which three foreign students were chosen to participate. They are Debbie Shapira, from Venezuela; and Rachel Edelsohn, from Israel.

Ruth Jacob, the moderator, asks the girls about different aspects of the social life, education, and Judaism in their respective countries.

Debbie Shapira, a freshman at Stern, stated in English that she was three years old when she lived in Argentina and that she attended Bar Ilan University for three years before coming to Stern. She is an English teacher and plans to teach elementary school in New York. In Australia she had studied both in a yeshiva and in public schools. She was married while being on the air but was not married the other two.

Debbie was interviewed but said that the modernist, Ruth Jacob, was "very nice and put us at ease. She was very sweet and pleasant." Debbie is an upper freshman.

Rachel Edelsohn, a native Israeli, attended Yeshiva University for three years before coming to Stern. She is an English teacher and plans to teach at a high school in Argentina and in the literary field.

Ambassador Harman To Address Students

Chartered buses will transport the entire student body to Yeshiva University next Thursday to hear Ambassador Avera A. Hameyer speak in honor of Stern's 70th Anniversary. Due to the limited facilities at Stern, the address will be delivered at the Main Campus. There will be a reserved section for Stern students. Outsiders will be admitted to the auditorium by ticket only.

Ambassador Hameyer is the official representative from the Israeli government of the United States. His Headquarters is the Embassy in Washington, D.C. Mr. Hameyer has been ambassador to this country since 1963. Prior to this he had served in various other countries.

Watch For...

November 18: WEVD Radio Show, Stern Students Visit Rabbis in Their Native Countries. 12:00 - 12:30.

December 6: Reception in honor of Dr. Krakowski, recipient of the Award for French Cultural Contributions. 9:00 - 10:00.

Dr. Krakowski Awarded Citation For French Cultural Contributions

By Shira Koller

Dr. Anna Krakowski, visiting instructor at Stern, received a citation from the French Cultural Institute for her work in the field of French literature.

Dr. Krakowski has published many literary papers in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, and has written a scientific research paper on Emile Zola. She is about to publish a book, in French, on the cultural life in the Warsaw Ghetto. She has received primary support from the archives. The book, eventually, will be translated into English.

Her reaction to the award was one of surprise. Dr. Krakowski knew of the award but did not expect to be selected. There are many famous authors in France for this award, which gives it greater prestige.

Dr. Krakowski has lived in France for two years. She has two sons at a French university and is the daughter of a French university. She has two sons: a son at Yeshiva College and a son in a high school in Jerusalem. She is a native of Warsaw, a native of Poland, and a native of France.

Ambassador Harman Discusses New Venture For Club Stimulation

"Student Forum will help to stimulate Stern College culturally and intellectually, and as a result, the students are expected to help improve our social atmosphere," Mrs. Koller, French Cultural Institute's Counselor, said.

An innovation conceived by Student Council chairman, the Student Forum is going to establish a cultural and educational link between Stern and Yeshiva College, by holding joint meetings between clubs from both colleges of a similar nature.

"Everyone should join a club. Join and participate, for a club will be nothing without your participation," Stern has stated. According to the fact that a strong and active club participation is important at Stern for the program to be of maximum effect.

The Forum will be run entirely by the respective club, which will sponsor it, and will be attended solely by members of that club. To qualify as a member, and hence qualify for the forum, a student will be required to attend at least three meetings of that particular club, prior to the Forum.

Depending upon the interest of the sponsor clubs, Forum programs will vary in their presentations from week to week. The majority of the Forum leaders are expected to import outside speakers and discussions, but other clubs, upon their own initiative, are expected to present their own programs. Along these lines, the first special annual application of the Forum will be revealed. It is due to be announced on the bulletin board.

The Forum will be sponsored by the Student Council, and the program has been planned by Dr. Krakowski, student council chairman, and the program has been planned for beginning as late as the middle of the semester.
Conventioin's Grant

At the convenioin of the Women's Branch of the Union of Orthodox Congregations last Tuesday, Mrs. Elizabeth Isaac accepted a scholarship grant on behalf of Stern College. The women at the convention are members of local organizations throughout the United States and Canada gathered for a three-day convention in New York.

Stern is deeply gratified to be the recipient of the organization's grant and elated that our school has established a reputation for excellence. Perhaps the women feel that their daughters will profit from a school which was founded too late for them to attend. It was noted that many daughters dashed off to the Hotel New Yorker early this week to visit with their mothers or friends who were delegates to the convention.

The Dormitory Blues

As the academic year progresses, old and new problems again come into focus. Though new facilities have been promised us, there are a number of arrangements we feel should be made to ease student living.

We hope that plans for arrangements in the dormitory being discussed by Dorm-Council in conjunction with Student Council will be implemented. At present there is difficulty in obtaining kosher food particularly on Sunday when grocery stores are closed. The severity of this problem received a concerted effort on the part of faculty and students to make kosher food readily available to all girls. This could best be accomplished by introducing sandwich machines, etc.

And Pinks

A perpetual thorn in the side of dorm residents is the color of their slips printed here as most dormers complete it.

Stern College for Women

Library Improves

We note with approval certain rearrangements that have added to the efficiency and comfort of the library. There is a new system of signing out a reserve book for an hour at a time. This sign out gives a student the freedom to use the books by her fellow students. This arrangement allows for greater comfort since students may read in the lounge, etc. It also eliminates a problem that has existed in the library.

The larger student body has understandedly added to the already overcrowded conditions of the library. The addition of several new tables greatly reduces the confusion and noise.

Perhaps the greatest achievement in the library this year is the degree of quiet. We hope that girls will continue to appreciate this as a means of making use of the library properly as a place of study.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor—

This year a very significant addition has been made to the course offerings in the physical education department. In fact, we shall have some worthwhile and practical gym courses in the form of bowling and swimming. This will be a great benefit for both commuters and dormers.

The bowling alley is located at Fifth St. and Third Ave. and is therefore convenient for both commuters and dormers. The alley may not be the most modern, but one of the advantages of the establishment is that the two-hour bowling sessions will be held at 9:00 P.M. and 1:00 A.M. and that the girls may leave the pool with hair wet and hair dry to return at the end of the session. If anyone should need anything, the staff of the bowling alley and the staff of the bowling alley will be on hand to assist.

The swimming pool is located at the Third St. and Third Ave. and is therefore convenient for both commuters and dormers.

The swimming pool is open at 9:00 A.M. and the girls may leave the pool with hair wet and hair dry to return at the end of the session. If anyone should need anything, the staff of the swimming pool and the staff of the swimming pool will be on hand to assist.

From which the boys receive.

And yet—

A different attitude is also necessary in the selection of entertainment. Although the menu is necessary and every girl must select the food, it should not be taken that the girls can serve tables on Shabbos and on their own. At times this is a problem, because one is trained at home, to do this work, it is little to ask that one serve two meals in order to get those free. In this respect, we request our friends, upshers, to remember that we, too, can receive free meals by serving on Shabbos...

As the season for physical exercises as the Shabbos, it is understandable that we are not trained to serve meals on Shabbos.

As Shabbes draws to a close, the Amsterdam Annex is able to relax and meet at the Shabad Shabbos, and string FREE Shabbos Seudot. One should be foreed to admit that we are separate but equal to "OY!. This is, in food for thought. If we are to remain, and the hope is that we will separate but equal, then only added to be treated as such.

Rachel Spiegler

Dear Editor—

The principles of "separate but equal" has long retained its validity throughout the development of national policy. It has been a rule of conduct among Jews. While we, who identify with Stern College, are a separate and distinct group, we are not isolated from the rest of American Jewry. The Shabbos which our manuscript counterparts experience in this land is a Shabbos which we, too, participate in. We are not alone but we are supplied by the same source as that from which the boys receive.

And yet—

A different attitude is also necessary in the selection of entertainment. Although the menu is necessary and every girl must select the food, it should not be taken that the girls can serve tables on Shabbos and on their own. At times this is a problem, because one is trained at home, to do this work, it is little to ask that one serve two meals in order to get those free. In this respect, we request our friends, upshers, to remember that we, too, can receive free meals by serving on Shabbos...
Club Assembly Lists Activities

School clubs met for the first time this year on November 9 during the scheduled free period. Club coordinator, Susan Blumen-stein-West, expressed the hope that all the clubs will be active since "we have the best leaders!" The list of clubs and their leaders for the opening year are as follows:

Hesed Israeli Dancing, Feizi Zimmern, Leah Leibman; Par-
nah Hebrew, Dr. Havazelet; Culinary Arts, Missy Mr. Pruten; Yad Zid, Dr. Scheinbluth; Art, Mrs. Weinstock; Public Affairs, Dr. Ora; Drama, Ezra Pomezky.

The club will meet Wednesday as listed in the school calendar. The exception is the Drama Club which will meet as the week.

Social Work Opportunities To Be Discussed At Hunter

An opportunity to obtain information about graduate study in social work and the job opportunities in the profession will be offered in an open meeting on Tuesday, December 1, 1964, from 3:30 to 6:00 p.m. in the North Lounge of Hunter College, 695 Park Avenue.

This meeting will be sponsored by the Social Work Recruiting Center of Greater New York as an effort to reach junior and senior as well as recent college graduates who are considering careers in social work.

Highlighting this meeting will be a brief talk by Alex Rosen, Dean of the New York University Graduate School of Social Work on "Social Work in an Affluent Society." A distinguished panel of experts including Dr. Rita McQueen, Professor of Social Work at the Fordham University School of Social Work; Mrs. Kathryn J. Gayler, Director, National Commission on Higher Education in Social Work; and James Fagury, Executive Di- rector of the Community Council of Greater New York, will follow Dean Rosen's presentation.

The panel will cover such topics as the contact of social work education, the admissions process, the various kinds of fi- nancial aid available for graduate study and social work profesi- onal opportunities.

Pouplkne Lecture

"(Continued from page 2)

In 1961, he also received a second studey grant from Yeshiva University, City College of New York, Columbia University and the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Marcel Pericin, of the Department of Pediatrics, recently invited to the Jonaathan Institute of the Hebrew Academy of Maryland, concluded in 1965, Stern's "Art of Piano" project has written many books and articles on piano repertoire and recently religious architecture both here and abroad, and this same

Faculty Footnotes

Three Stern college professors have recently engaged in notable activ- ities and were recently invited to the Professional Advisory Board of the Jewish Community. This summer Professor Raddi Wachsmann, was invited to con-

Performing at the club assembly are top left, Hadassah Goldman, Culinary Art; top right, dancers led by Felix Zimmern of the Israeli dance club; bottom left, Miss Rosenblum and Gil Shabtai, debaters; and between right Leah Leibman leading ethics club readings.

Gottesman Fund Student Loans Readily Available

Since the establishment of the Student Free Loan Fund in mem- ory of Mendel Gottesman, estab- lished in the Youth and Stern College were assisted by 2,412 loans aggregating $32,323.80. The pri-

DORM NEWS

By Elaine Lefkowitz

FLIP CHAIRMAN

The chairmen of the Stern Dormitory council were elected for two weeks ago. This year the students have been assigned the task of planning and arranging weekend events for their fellow dormitorymates, maintaining dormitory rules, answering telephone duty, and collect- ing dormitory dues.

The elected dorm chairman are: Toby Engel and Mary Jean Brown, second floor; Paul Marcus and Arlene Sherman, third floor; Arlene Oskand and Lenoir Wulff, fourth floor; Vivian Blumenfeld and Linda Lewis, fifth floor; and Herbert Aiken and Rafael Volk, sixth floor.

Dorm Duty
Dorm duty does not have to end until November 13. The present (151 dollars per se- nior) is used for Shabbos flowers, tips at social functions, and bringing dorm mates to class and brightness dormitory life. Lounge Improvements

A committee has now been appointed to renovate the student lounge located on the first floor of the dormitory. Pictures will be hung, and doors and windows will be laid out, and ar- rangements will be completedly placed around the floor.

Washington Heights Weekend

In the second weekend of October, 1964, the Washington Heights Synagogue was opened by 51 college dormitory students during the weekend of October 11-13. There were Washington Heights residents who live within walking distance of campus.

Friday night the girls participat- ed in an Osey Shabbath held by the synagogue. Dr. Raphael Weingarten, who teaches Biblical Literature and Jewish History at the College gave a talk on the history of the synagogue. After- wards, students were served and the girls went on their way.

On Shabbos morning the girls heard a speech delivered by Rabi-
Dr. Bernard Raphael Weingarten, Executive Director of the University Orthdox Congregations. He spoke in honor of the synagogue's fifty-third anniversary.

In the afternoon the girls at- tended a panel discussion on Yeshivah J. The panelists were Dr. Greenberg, an assistant pro- fessor at Yeshiva University, Rabbi Jacob Bissum,in, the di- rector of the Student Council for Yeshiva Society. Many students at Yeshiva attended the Student Council which has vehemently condemned the Soviet Union's anti-

The girls were invited to attend a special assembly ceremony the following Sunday afternoon. In honor of its fifth anniversary, the assembly presented a slide show to Mr. Karl Katz. The president of the Student Council for Yeshiva Jews. They therefore bought the panel's topic timely and important.

SPECIAL CHANUKAH BILLS

Will Be Available To Bueh

110 WEST 47th STREET, N.Y.C. 36, N.Y.
JUL 7-2454

SAMUEL HIZME CREATIONS

(Hirne Jewelry Co.)

Hirne Personalized Jewelry

Special Channukah Bills

would be available to buy.

DORP VENU

By Eliza Lefkowitz

FLIP CHAIRMAN

The chairmen of the Stern Dormitory council were elected for two weeks ago. This year the students have been assigned the task of planning and arranging weekend events for their fellow dormitorymates, maintaining dormitory rules, answering telephone duty, and collect- ing dormitory dues.

The elected dorm chairman are: Toby Engel and Mary Jean Brown, second floor; Paul Marcus and Arlene Sherman, third floor; Arlene Oskand and Lenoir Wulff, fourth floor; Vivian Blumenfeld and Linda Lewis, fifth floor; and Herbert Aiken and Rafael Volk, sixth floor.

Dorm Duty
Dorm duty does not have to end until November 13. The present (151 dollars per se- nior) is used for Shabbos flowers, tips at social functions, and bringing dorm mates to class and brightness dormitory life. Lounge Improvements

A committee has now been appointed to renovate the student lounge located on the first floor of the dormitory. Pictures will be hung, and doors and windows will be laid out, and ar- rangements will be completedly placed around the floor.

Washington Heights Weekend

In the second weekend of October, 1964, the Washington Heights Synagogue was opened by 51 college dormitory students during the weekend of October 11-13. There were Washington Heights residents who live within walking distance of campus.

Friday night the girls participat- ed in an Osey Shabbath held by the synagogue. Dr. Raphael Weingarten, who teaches Biblical Literature and Jewish History at the College gave a talk on the history of the synagogue. After- wards, students were served and the girls went on their way.

On Shabbos morning the girls heard a speech delivered by Rabi-
Dr. Bernard Raphael Weingarten, Executive Director of the University Orthdox Congregations. He spoke in honor of the synagogue's fifty-third anniversary.

In the afternoon the girls at- tended a panel discussion on Yeshivah J. The panelists were Dr. Greenberg, an assistant pro- fessor at Yeshiva University, Rabbi Jacob Bissum,in, the di- rector of the Student Council for Yeshiva Society. Many students at Yeshiva attended the Student Council which has vehemently condemned the Soviet Union's anti-

The girls were invited to attend a special assembly ceremony the following Sunday afternoon. In honor of its fifth anniversary, the assembly presented a slide show to Mr. Karl Katz. The president of the Student Council for Yeshiva Jews. They therefore bought the panel's topic timely and important.

SPECIAL CHANUKAH BILLS

Will Be Available To Bueh

110 WEST 47th STREET, N.Y.C. 36, N.Y.
JUL 7-2454

SAMUEL HIZME CREATIONS

(Hirne Jewelry Co.)

Hirne Personalized Jewelry

Special Channukah Bills

would be available to buy.
Freshmen Hold Elections; Anticipate An Active Year

By Molly Stern

On Tuesday, October 30, the Freshmen held their first elections for the 1964-65 school year. The following slate of officers was chosen: Zelde Badner, president; Michele Kogan, vice-president; and Harriet Jakubovics, secretary and treasurer.

Zelde Badner is a sophomore at the United States Military Academy, sponsored by the shul. She hopes her activities will be a part of the student council, Jewish community. While in high school, she was president of the girls' varsity club, member of the honor society, and president of her book club. She plans to major in history, and hopes to eventually enter law school.

The new president is filled with optimism, enthusiasm, and a desire to help her class. She is anxious to make this year a success and a fulfilling one, but stresses that the solicitous support and interest of the freshmen class is vital for the execution of any and all plans. As for candid feelings about school, Zelde earnestly said, "Pastelik Livin' is all I had my expectations.

Our newly elected vice-president, Michele Kogan, was chosen from Poaghepa High School, Poaghepa, New York. Michele was vice-president of the science club, secretary of the junior class, and a member of the cheerleading squad. Michelle's activities were not confined to school; she is an active part in her Jewish community as well. In the junior year, she was vice-president of the Senior Youth Council and secretary of the Junior Shabbos Committee. If the coming year proves to be as successful as the previous one, the office will be well occupied.

Dorm Socials In Two Shifts

The dormitory population of Stern College has grown to such a degree that the annual opening week dormitory social, the dormitory shabbos, was held on two shifts, in order to provide a social event in the coming year.

In addition, each of the two events was held in the dormitory and the facilities of the auditorium, the student lounge, the smoking lounge and the cafeteria were fully available for the dormitory students and their guests.

Since the socials took place right after Shabbos and right before Veteran's Day the theme was American Indian. The decorations, which enhanced the festivities, were designed to create a festive mood. The theme, including decorations and costumes, was presented in both dormitories, with the same results.

The entertainment this year was also an innovation. Harry Gay, the emotional American Jewish harpist and harpist, performed on both nights. Afterward folk dancing was held in the cafeteria and classical music was played in the lounge.

Refresments were served by six waitresses in both the cafeteria and the lounge.

The atmosphere was heightened by forty girls actively participating on various committees for the entertainment.

Students Hear Speakers; Candidate Debate Issues

By Bette Herschman

State Senator Paul Bookman (Dem.) spoke at Stern on Oct. 27 in his first try at public office. He took book in a political rally sponsored by State Student Council during club hour. Also participating in the rally were Mrs. William Alpert, a Republican from Albany. The election under discussion was "The Views of the Jewish-Italian Situation."

"Mrs. Alpert, a past president of Hadassah in Albany, spoke first and discussed the United State's government's stand on this problem and stated that during the Democratic administration nothing was done for Israel. She also occupied occasional moments of the discussion led by the Democratic Party, made a group of students at Stern College off the air and extending it to Egypt. She did admit, however, that President Truman recognized the state immediately after its borders and that the Eisenhower-Dulles days were difficult ones for Israel. She accused the Kennedy Administration of keeping a closed-door policy toward Zionist problems and of neglecting the anti-Semitic government officials.

Bookman defended his party's position, stating that the situation is not an overwhelming issue, but something that can be handled. He said that there is no issue about aid to Israel.

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad

Corpsman Tells Of Assignment In Southeast Asia

"A venture in medium undercurrent," was Doctor Weis's description of his Peace Corps experience as a teacher in a small village in the jungles of North Borneo. Mr. Weis spoke to a group of students at Stern College on Tuesday, October 27, about his experiences in the Peace Corps. Everyone knew as "tag" the leader—he was a popular ad