Med. School Forecast By Sept. 1952

The establishment of a Yeshiva Medical School by September, 1952, was urged by Dr. Izhak Katz, professor of the Advance ment of Pre-Medical Sciences, November 21, at the So dow Hotel Autr. He proposed the launching of a six million dollar drive, one million of which be slated for actual school expenses, the rest being a reserve fund.

The other speakers included Hugo Bogers, Borough President; Rabbi Dr. Mayer, chairman of the University's Board of Trustees, and Dr. An der, former Dean of the Fords ham University Medical School.

Need Urgent

"It is vitally important," Dr. Katz declared, "that existing medical centers become overcrowded and cannot admit many eligible and desirable students." He noted how the President's Commission on Higher Ed- ucation, he recalled, predicted a medical deficit in 1956.

The high standards of intensive research now always characterized Yeshiva University are now being practiced and maintained. Within the framework of a single faculty, student body and curriculum will grow so that the present Fesh- man Class, of which approximately twenty are preparing for med- ical training, will be ready for graduation in June, 1952. This will mark the completion of four years of intensive training and preparation in a modern medi- cine, which in turn will naturally create the need for a medical school."

Mr. Mumit delivered an address at the Sixth Plenary session of the conference. He stated that we in this country and that "Pear never won a war or a peace." Mr. Mumit explained that the cleavage between the two countries is a natural one and should cause no alarm. "The world community will gain by the co-existence of seemingly opposed theologies each striving in its own way to gain for itself the highest and the best nation can offer."

The conference was addressed by such leading scholars as Dr. Clyde Eagleton, F. Morrison and Mr. Mumit was named as an Executive Adviser to the President. Such themes as the "economic problem", "the U.N. over the United States" and "the U.N. imposing economic relations between the two countries, and Atomic Control were discussed.

The new issue will con- tain as central themes articles on the seven hundredth anniversary of the death of the Gaon and the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Osn of Vilna, discussing various aspects of their teaching, in particular their common opposition to pipilum and contrib- ution to modern educational methods.

The issue will include a number of articles by leading Rabbanim, including Dr. Belkin, Solomon- chitz, Pinel and Mirsky and spec- ial contributions by two students, Dr. Asher Stev and Bernard Bergmann.

Drama Is Readied

For University Nite

Varsity vs. Alumni, T.A. vs. Faculty

Billed For Student-Alumni Reunion

"French and Faculty", an original play by Joseph Tobor '40, will be presented by the student council at the University on December 5. Directed by the author, the play features Solomon Solom '41 in the lead as a college dean, Max Frumkin '43 as a Professor of Philosophy.

Mr. Tobor relied that the play is based on events or characters from Yeshiva College, and emphasizes "The 20th Century" and "French and Faculty" are faculty. Published together, according to the author, "French and Faculty" is a farce about an imaginary college dealing with professors and students in the abstract. It is an attempt at investigating the uni- versal qualities which characterize the two species.

The evening will open with a football game between two teams and a Yeshiva gym. A Talmudical Aca- demy's varsity will face the Faculty. The student and faculty graduates will meet the alumni, following the show, a reception will be given by the University and alumni and their guests in Kelb Hall.

The complete schedule of the evening follows:

7:15-8:15 "French and Faculty" 9:30 Alumni Reception in Kelb Hall

The project was start- ed last May and will be completed in 1956.

A similar catalogue which will list all bound books of the periodicals held in the Yeshiva library is now be- ing completed. This catalogue will also be published in the next scattered throughout the Univer- sity Library System.

A. M. Margulith has been appointed by President Belkin as chief Librarian of Yeshiva University Libraries. The libraries are work- ing towards consolidation to give University students the maximum serv- ice. Dr. Joseph Yehiel has been appointed Librarian of the Fel- lock Graduate Library.

The Late Dr. Revel

This month marks the eighth anniversary of Dr. Bernard Revel's death.

Most of us have never had the pleasure of knowing Dr. Revel in person. But we cannot help meeting him; the college is his handiwork; the entire Yeshiva bears witness to his efforts.

But to know Dr. Revel better, we must have a recourse to oral and written records of his days. We who have easy access to the latter like to read the account of his prophetic shiur, believing that it captures some of the essence of our late president. Dr. Revel says, in part:

"My life's work, my life, is Yeshiva. And the students are Yeshiva, and Yeshiva, the students. You, and all you who came before you and those who shall come after you."

"Even if someone would deter you from the task I have set before you, tell him in my name that you must continue. The Yeshiva is yours to build."

We consider this a challenge to try to make this the kind of an institution that Dr. Revel would have been proud to be associated with.

We consider it our most priceless heritage to fight for the things for which we think Dr. Revel would have fought.

The University At Waltham

As of this semester Yeshiva willingly forfeits a distinction. She is no longer "the only University in the Americas under Jewish auspices." Our brethren in Waltham have opened up Brandeis University. We felicitate them and wish them success in their enterprise.

As a matter of confidence, our Waltham coreligionists have said certain things which make us suspect that they misunderstand the character of Yeshiva. They have boasted of creating the "first NON-SECTARIAN university under Jewish auspices." Yeshiva, they imply, is sectarian. But that does not jibe with the Albany-granted-charter. Under that, we clearly have to be non-sectarian. Are we really? Certainly the faculty has always been non-sectarian. Up to no non-Jewish applicant has appeared with the large knowledge and wide acceptance of Yeshiva, no fraternities have appeared which keep him up until morning, no magazine lists of students, boys living determined, when the only issue on the part of the Israeli establishment is to keep them as far away from the walls of the establishment as possible.

And friendship to our sister university.

Meet the Seniors

Jack Alter: "Blinkies", as this ununiformed All American Boy is known by his friends, hails from Cologne, which fact accounts for his boarding house and his attendance at mazar lectures which keep him up until all hours of the morning, he is usually too sleepy to attend the minyan. His extra-curricular activities consist of the editorship of Le Flameau and beerfeast at 2:00 A.M.

Milton: "A proud and humble Jew". A scholar, Milton is a thoroughly good chap, peso and all. "This salty son of Retz", as he likes to be called, makes frequent speaking audiences, follows in the royal traditions of a rabbinic seraph in a short black coat and white mitzvah.

"They have entered Aretz, raising our population to approximately 350,000. This upsurge comprises the majority of Erez Israel." This fact must and will form the basis of all future diplomatic activities on the part of Israel government.

Family course. A first believer in planning ahead, Joe is making arrangements for his monthly, time, place, and the girl yet un- known. But the latter is no prob- lem—any millionaire’s daughter will do. Considering college, a waste of time, this crowned head of Karter Ramos is only awaiting graduation before going on to Haschbara and Areh.

Donald J. Berger: Aside from possessing all the attributes of a first rate second-story man, the Commentator’s, chief locksmith also displays all signs of impending into deanship at some American college. He shows great facility at plumbing, carpentering, painting, and associated liberal arts and sciences. One of the few TI. grades who are still attending the T.I., this hopeful teacher was born on the 10th floor of the Royal Hospital in the Bronx, and is currently striving to attain greater heights. The Sunday in his parents’ hearts, this little shaver and math major finds sports un- necessary and accordingly thrives spending his time in the bar- ber’s.

Sel. Bimosefsky: A fine leader of the anti-Bro-Park Movement, this samboe of SKIFP and lshayvun Chaim Bimosefsky, is to be found in the lab in the few moments he can spare time from his T.I. classes. An immediate undergraduate, this Bimosefsky is seen in the best places and ob- serves in the worst. Letters
(Continued from Page 2) religion and traditions. The religion is considered something that is extra-worldly. It will be the task of the Yeshiva and its students to show by a living example that our Torah is a Torah of Life.

The division between religious Jewish groups is no longer in place. Extremists on both sides must accept the existence of a Jewish state as an accomplished fact. The sooner the religious groups come together, the stronger their influence will be. The indifference towards the Scriptures and the Hebrew language must be dispelled, and the Yeshiva boy must translate past history into present values.
