Facility Nixes New Proposal To Make P-N More Flexible

By STEVEN MANDELBerg

The final speaker of the evening was Rabbi Louis Bernstein, President of the Rabbinical Council of America. He stressed that political power is the key to the problem, "Jews should resist plans different from those of the Gentiles", he said. "Physical pressure to the Jewish community is the final step of the Gentiles, if not the first."

To have any part of the city, "Jews must start thinking collectively," said Rabbi Bernstein. "We must fight the plan, if Forest Hills goes, YU goes.""

Political Pressure

After citing several examples of once-thriving Jewish areas that have now degenerated into slums, Rabbi Bernstein concluded that political power is the key to the problem. "Jews should resist plans different from those of the Gentiles," he said. "Physical pressure to the Jewish community is the final step of the Gentiles, if not the first.""

New York's deteriorating Jewish communities were the topic of a YU Symposium held recently at YU. Entitled "When, If Ever, Should Jews Abandon Their Communities," the Symposium featured speakers whose widely differing views provided an interesting forum for discussion and comparison.

The first speaker was Rabbi Louis Bernstein, President of the Rabbinical Council of America. He stressed the concept of presenting a united metropolitan Jewish front to combat the problems of a Jewish community in any part of the city. "Jews must start thinking collectively," said Rabbi Bernstein. "If Forest Hills goes, YU goes.""

Political Pressure

After citing several examples of once-thriving Jewish areas that have now degenerated into slums, Rabbi Bernstein concluded that political power is the key to the problem. "Jews should resist plans different from those of the Gentiles," he said. "Physical pressure to the Jewish community is the final step of the Gentiles, if not the first.""

New York's deteriorating Jewish communities were the topic of a YU Symposium held recently at YU. Entitled "When, If Ever, Should Jews Abandon Their Communities," the Symposium featured speakers whose widely differing views provided an interesting forum for discussion and comparison.

The first speaker was Rabbi Louis Bernstein, President of the Rabbinical Council of America. He stressed the concept of presenting a united metropolitan Jewish front to combat the problems of a Jewish community in any part of the city. "Jews must start thinking collectively," said Rabbi Bernstein. "If Forest Hills goes, YU goes.""

Political Pressure

After citing several examples of once-thriving Jewish areas that have now degenerated into slums, Rabbi Bernstein concluded that political power is the key to the problem. "Jews should resist plans different from those of the Gentiles," he said. "Physical pressure to the Jewish community is the final step of the Gentiles, if not the first.""

New York's deteriorating Jewish communities were the topic of a YU Symposium held recently at YU. Entitled "When, If Ever, Should Jews Abandon Their Communities," the Symposium featured speakers whose widely differing views provided an interesting forum for discussion and comparison.

The first speaker was Rabbi Louis Bernstein, President of the Rabbinical Council of America. He stressed the concept of presenting a united metropolitan Jewish front to combat the problems of a Jewish community in any part of the city. "Jews must start thinking collectively," said Rabbi Bernstein. "If Forest Hills goes, YU goes.""

Political Pressure

After citing several examples of once-thriving Jewish areas that have now degenerated into slums, Rabbi Bernstein concluded that political power is the key to the problem. "Jews should resist plans different from those of the Gentiles," he said. "Physical pressure to the Jewish community is the final step of the Gentiles, if not the first.""
For many years the Orthodox Jewish community has been implicating the leader­ship of the Jewish Student Council in at least a small fraction of the hundreds of millions of dollars it collects each year to meet the financial needs of Jewish immigrants to Israel. Yet the repeated pleadings seem to have fallen on deaf ears. The UJA is very well aware of the financial needs of these centers, in which it plays such a major role, to remain without the religious counselors that are so vitally needed by a large number of the new arrivals. Its response to the cries of anguish is always the same: "We urge you, considering your requests," — has taken on a hollow quality after its many repetitions.

It is in view of this unfortunate situa­tion that we must only hope for a far-reaching decision recently made by the Yeshiva College Student Council. In re­sponse to student demands from the student body, YCSC has determined that the annual UJA drive should be signifi­cantly reduced. Instead of having all of the funds collected go automatically to the UJA, students will be asked to divide their donations, according to their own preferences, between the UJA and Techiya. The latter is an organization dedicated to pro­viding for the material needs of those in need.

From the Yeshiva News, "The latter is an organization dedicated to pro­viding for the material needs of those in need." We urge them to give a sizable portion of their funds to Techiya, a spiritual organization that is doing so much to bring Jews to freedom and establish them in the Holy Land. Perhaps they will also be able to provide tzedakah, a significant sum to Techiya so that the spiritual needs of the immigrants can be at least partly met. We urge all those in attendance and considering the plight of our brethren in Israel to lend a hand. We know that the UJA’s request is one of major concern and that it "provides the most reliable means of ensuring faculty and educational excellence, as well as academic freedom." Major criticism is leveled at two areas of tenure: 1. That it "tends to perpetuate mediocrity and faculty deadwood," and 2. "the measurement of a probationary faculty member’s value by the quality of his published papers rather than the quality of his teaching.

The article contains a series of recommendations listed by the report and it is those recommendations that are of note to this college.

1. That institutions set a maximum of seven years and a minimum of five on the probationary period. This, too, is not receiving a better response from the student body. As usual, there was little of importance in this report. The part of the recommendation that is not is of no real consequence, and a campus topic as I see it.

The Jerusalem Post Times (March 25, 1973) carried an article entitled "Tenure for College Teachers Supported." The article contained information on tenure, based on a report by the Committee on An Academic Tenure in Higher Education. The committee’s main tenure in need of major revision yet that it “provides the most reliable means of ensuring faculty and educational excellence, as well as academic freedom.” Major criticism is leveled at two areas of tenure: 1. That it “tends to perpetuate mediocrity and faculty deadwood,” and 2. “the measurement of a probationary faculty member’s value by the quality of his published papers rather than the quality of his teaching.

The article contains a series of recommendations listed by the report and it is those recommendations that are of note to this college.

1. That institutions set a maximum of seven years and a minimum of five on the probationary period. This, too, is not receiving a better response from the student body. As usual, there was little of importance in this report. The part of the recommendation that is not is of no real consequence, and a campus topic as I see it.

The Jerusalem Post Times (March 25, 1973) carried an article entitled "Tenure for College Teachers Supported." The article contained information on tenure, based on a report by the Committee on An Academic Tenure in Higher Education. The committee’s main tenure in need of major revision yet that it “provides the most reliable means of ensuring faculty and educational excellence, as well as academic freedom.” Major criticism is leveled at two areas of tenure: 1. That it “tends to perpetuate mediocrity and faculty deadwood,” and 2. “the measurement of a probationary faculty member’s value by the quality of his published papers rather than the quality of his teaching.

The article contains a series of recommendations listed by the report and it is those recommendations that are of note to this college.

1. That institutions set a maximum of seven years and a minimum of five on the probationary period. This, too, is not receiving a better response from the student body. As usual, there was little of importance in this report. The part of the recommendation that is not is of no real consequence, and a campus topic as I see it.
Dr. Eugene Ley Gruen

Dr. Eugene Ley Gruen, a candidate for the 24th District of New York City (18), has recently joined the City Council. He attended Torah College and the University of Judaism, and is the son of a Yeshiva student. His political career began when he worked for Congressmen Poddell in Washington and was introduced to the world of high politics. He joined his local Democratic club and became embroiled in a Jewish-revival movement, but he found his way back to the world of high politics. He joined the New York Democratic Committee and was elected to the City Council in 1970. Gruen stands as a nominee in his district, and he is the first to recognize that the City Council may rekindle extinguished passions. In the for-mation of his candidacy, he hopes to bring a change in the city's fiscal problems, raising and distributing the limited funds of the city. For this reason, the city council, the legislative branch of the city government, is the appropriate institution in which he can make his mark, and implement his ideas.

The Chalenge

In the face of the many challenges facing New York City, the general public is becoming more aware of the city's fiscal problems. The City Council is the appropriate institution in which to address these issues. The council's role is to make decisions that will benefit the city's residents. The council members are elected by the people to represent their interests. It is important for the public to become involved in the political process and to hold their representatives accountable for their actions.

The Art Exhibit

The Yeshiva University Art Gallery is currently exhibiting a collection of paintings by Jewish artists. The exhibit features works by artists such as Pablo Picasso, Marc Chagall, and Mark Rothko. The paintings are on loan from private collectors and are displayed in the gallery's main exhibition space. The exhibit runs through the end of the month and is open to the public.

The Future of the Arts

With the advent of new technologies, the future of the arts is uncertain. However, the arts have always been a source of inspiration and creativity. They have the power to help people understand and connect with one another. The arts are essential to our culture and should be protected.

The Importance of Education

Education is crucial to the success of any society. It is important for people to have access to quality education in order to reach their full potential. This is especially true for Jewish students, who have a unique identity and a rich cultural heritage. By promoting Jewish education, we can ensure that future generations will continue to carry on the traditions and values of our people.

The Challenge of Modernity

In the face of modernity, it is important for Jewish students to maintain their identity. This can be done through education, community involvement, and by participating in Jewish cultural events. By doing so, they can remain connected to their roots and to the larger Jewish community.

The Importance of Community

Community is an important aspect of Jewish life. It provides a sense of belonging and support for members of the Jewish community. By participating in community activities, students can develop strong bonds with their peers and with the broader Jewish community.

The Future of Jewish Education

The future of Jewish education is bright. With the advent of new technologies and the increasing importance of community involvement, Jewish education is poised to become even more relevant and engaging for students. By promoting Jewish education, we can ensure that future generations will continue to carry on the traditions and values of our people.
ELECTION

The purpose of this special supplement of THE COMMENTATOR is to better acquaint the student body with the candidates who will probably be running in next week's election. Several questions were prepared by the Governing Board with one question designated to fit the particular candidate aspiring to an office, so as to bring out his viewpoint. I give the student the chance to respond to these questions and all answers were handed in by hand. I feel that it is important that the TO students be fully knowledgeable about the viewpoint of the candidates who will probably run for office. By THE COMMENTATOR

Commentator: What do you feel is important that the students should know about the viewpoint of the candidates who will probably run for office? I feel that it is important that the TO students be fully knowledgeable about the viewpoint of the candidates who will probably run for office.

Commentator: How do you view your role as YCSC Executive Council member, to do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?

Commentator: In your role as YCSC Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in discussions or as an observer?
Commentator: What do you see as the major problems you face as the new Vice-President? Mr. Bergman: The major problem facing Student Council this coming year is to revitalize itself and to become a real voice of the student body.

Commentator: What do you see as the major problems you face as the new Vice-President? Mr. Bergman: The major problem facing Student Council this coming year is to revitalize itself and to become a real voice of the student body.

Commentator: What do you see as the major problems you face as the new Vice-President? Mr. Bergman: The major problem facing Student Council this coming year is to revitalize itself and to become a real voice of the student body.

Commentator: What do you see as the major problems you face as the new Vice-President? Mr. Bergman: The major problem facing Student Council this coming year is to revitalize itself and to become a real voice of the student body.

Commentator: What do you see as the major problems you face as the new Vice-President? Mr. Bergman: The major problem facing Student Council this coming year is to revitalize itself and to become a real voice of the student body.
These three young men just made the discovery of a lifetime. The oldest is 34.

Remember when young people could get ahead in business simply by growing old? It was a good system for those with a little talent and a lot of patience, but today's technology moves too fast to wait for seniority.

At Kodak, our extensive involvement in basic research has made the need for fresh, young thinking more pressing than ever. So we hire the best new talent we possibly can. Then we do both of us a favor by turning them loose on real problems, and giving them the freedom and responsibility they need to solve them.

That's how three Kodak scientists in their early thirties just made a breakthrough in liquid lasers, developing an organic dye laser with a continuous beam. Their discovery means more than just a new kind of laser. It means a whole range of new laser applications, in fields from medicine to communications.

It was the kind of discovery most men and women work a lifetime for. Yet these young men still have most of their lifetimes ahead of them.

Why do we give young men and women so much freedom and responsibility? Because it's good business, and we're in business to make a profit. But in furthering our own business interests, we also further society's interests. And that's good.

After all, our business depends on society. So we care what happens to it.

Kodak
More than a business.
Prospective Candidates Express Opinions

(Continued from Page 5, Col. 5)

be active in the formation of Yeshiva's future academic plans. An additional problem is the allocation of funds to committees. YCSC should re-examine the budget for the possible re-structuring of priorities.

Commentator: You serve as an Executive Council member, do you see yourself as an active participant in the discussions, or as an arbiter; also, how would you be able to prevent the administration a viewpoint passed by Council to which you are personally opposed?

I believe that my office would require both qualities in varying degrees with more emphasis being placed as an active participant in the discussions, serving the past year as President of the Sophomore Class and having a knowledge of the operations of student government, I can add an enlightened voice to the debate.

Being a representative of all of the students, it would, moreover, be my obligation to go to

READ $50 FASTER
5 weeks guaranteed course
DOUBLE or TRIPLE your reading speed.
NEW! Nationally known programs.
ENGLISH READING SKILLS 864-5112

MAIL AND SCIENCE MAURIS
417 North 52nd Street Philadelphia, Pa. 19140
Phone: (215) 234-7234

Newly Revised
6th Edition

RECOMMENDED TEXTBOOK
for 10th Grade

APOLLO 11: 100 YEARS AGO

RICHARD NIXON
WASHINGTON POST

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS
Toby Silverberg '72 to David Shnall '69
Tzip-Hacohen '71 to Matthew Zizmore '71
Toby Silverberg '72 to Judy Berghoff
Elyse Silverman '73 to Judy Berghoff

YEHUDAH REICH

Who's Engaged
Martin Ehrenberg '73 to Esther Ben-Ari
Mike Handler '72 to Judy Bergeroff
Eliott Royson '72 to Barbara Unger
Allan Schnall '72 to Judy Schelman
David Schnall '69 to Toby Shoulson

Israel

Burials and American Disinterments

is privileged to announce that the only American burial director in the U.S. able to effect Transfer to Israel within 24 hours

RIVERSIDE is also available as the Sole agent for Sanhedraes Cemetery

H. Hazleman
Har Hameruchot

And all Cemeteries in Israel

RIVERSIDE only can offer this service

Enroute to Israel
- Strict adherence to Halacha and Minhagim.
- Arrangements made during lifetime with no obligation.

RIVERSIDE MEMORIAL CHAPEL INC. - FUNERAL DIRECTORS

MANHATTAN: 76th Street at Amsterdam Avenue - EN 7-6050
PROPHET PARK - DU 4-2900

WESTCHESTER: 519 East 180th Street - DU 4-6800
FAR ROCKAWAY: 1295 Central Avenue - FA 7-3100
Whippany: 33 Whippany Rd - PL 2-4800

Sole agent for Sanhedraes Cemetery

Israel

Mme. Honored By
Yeshiva University
Degree Conferred

(Continued from Page 5, Col. 5)

Recognizing the institution's ties with Israel, she expressed her sentiments by adding how easily discernible a Yeshiva lehib is.

The highlight of the ceremony was, doubtlessly, the enthusiastic reaction she received following the speech. For close to ten minutes, students clapped and sang "Sh'aleh Chalil". Moved to tears, Mrs. Meir expressed her sentiment by warmly embracing the Stern College president later in the ceremony.

Coverage of this convocation appeared in most major newspapers throughout the country. An AP picture of Mrs. Meir in tears was published on the front page of the New York Post. A Pittsburgh newspaper hailed the event as "the warmest most enthusiastic welcome she has received from any audience during her long and eventful visit to the United States."

Several members of the audience interviewed commented on the convenience this reception probably made to rectify the somewhat needed and Course Evaluation, the Student, and Council, program to the Rode Yeshivas to be established as an official YC team, more funding of clubs, fighting for ample parking, and more money for class-sponsored activities.

The reshaping of YCSC into a vibrant organization is a long and implacable task. Yet, with the students' help, it can be done. It will be the Student Council's decision alone that will determine whether we have dynamic leadership to guide us in the work that lies ahead of us all.

CANDIDATES EXPRESS OPINIONS

Commentator: You say that upon entering active duty you'll have rank and status until graduation. And, having a knowledge of the operations of student government, I can add an enlightened voice to the debate.

I believe that my office would require both qualities in varying degrees with more emphasis being placed as an active participant in the discussions, serving the past year as President of the Sophomore Class and having a knowledge of the operations of student government, I can add an enlightened voice to the debate.

Being a representative of all of the students, it would, moreover, be my obligation to go to school and learn about the future of the students, it would, moreover, be my obligation to go to

Mith... 11aJce iiaJiars h wor•

Mlffllfet , .. the Carlll1e11. Must h U.S. dlfzee; Call. Dellse N■r- J:3..l"lfleti: . (212) 2649124.

IS Peelee · Cti,s leader$ In Asal, Afrlc1, of the students, it would, more­

Sophomore . Class. end having a knowledge of . th� operati bate.

an

student government, I can add structuring of priorit.ies.

the budget · for•· the · possible re�

appropriati

(Octniti1i contiued from

Commentator:

What are your

in year

the YCSC has played in "off-cam­

Col. ·· Mannorstein concerning . . . of lights at the entrance of the in the ceremony. parking, and with Dr. Socol end Commentator. YCSC has boon

With the majority decision of the students, it would, moreover, be my obligation to go to

to the end

vies,

the East, Central East-Oan�

419. Seminars take place in were obtained at the Youth Bu­

now being accepted for ad­

T
ty (please type)

Other (Please print)

Veterinary

Podiatry not available in Air Force Program.

Medical, osteopathic, dental, Services Health Professions scholarships just made pos­

Soon as you enter the pro­

yerements at the forthdesh. There is no

visory positions at the forth­

Enrolled at--------------

(Please print)

Year--------,

Veterinary

Veterinary

"come alive" towards the end

n why the

Afr Force

Mendy

I believe that in the past year

ycsc has played in "off-cam­

Col. ·· Mannorstein concerning . . . of lights at the entrance of the in the ceremony. parking, and with Dr. Socol end Commentator. YCSC has been

You're

int of neglecting the

I believe that in the past year

YCSC has played in "off-cam­

Col. ·· Mannorstein concerning . . . of lights at the entrance of the in the ceremony. parking, and with Dr. Socol end Commentator. YCSC has been

You're

int of neglecting the

I believe that in the past year

YCSC has played in "off-cam­

Col. ·· Mannorstein concerning . . . of lights at the entrance of the in the ceremony. parking, and with Dr. Socol end Commentator. YCSC has been

You're

int of neglecting the

I believe that in the past year

YCSC has played in "off-cam­

Col. ·· Mannorstein concerning . . . of lights at the entrance of the in the ceremony. parking, and with Dr. Socol end Commentator. YCSC has been

You're

int of neglecting the

I believe that in the past year

YCSC has played in "off-cam­

Col. ·· Mannorstein concerning . . . of lights at the entrance of the in the ceremony. parking, and with Dr. Socol end Commentator. YCSC has been

You're
Large Crowd Attends Karate Exhibition; Glance Receives Black Belt For Prowess

By SID ROSMAN

On Sunday, March 4, the Ye-

Avis Torah University gym was once again the scene of a certified karate tournament, this time for members of Yeshiva's karate kar-di, under the auspices of the Yeshiva University Youth Council. Competitors came from around the city, including members of the French, Israeli, and Israeli-American gymnastics teams. The event was attended by a large crowd of over three hundred people. A black belt award was given to former YU collegiate fencer and karate champion, Jeffrey Glanz, for his masterful display of skill and technique. His performance included breaks of one and two-inch boards,

as well as a demonstration of power and precision.

The Jewish Student Society

(JSS) and Hunter College's gymnastics teams were also represented at the event.

Ellmen End Winning Season; Tourney To Promote Squad

By LARRY EHSENBERG

The Ellmen's wild and wooly 72-73 season has drawn to a close. The trials and tribulations, the satisfaction and elation have all been reduced to a mere statistic, a 7-55 game percentage, which can only rest on their laurels and return to normal pursuits, such as eating. It remains the task of the reporter to analyze the statistics and recap the season.

Scoring Attack

For the Ellmen, scoring was a challenge. In 1972-73, there was a thin invisible line separating winners and losers, a line the Ellmen crossed last year almost accidentally. While the matmen were outscored 7-55, they did 357-264, and in team points, 315-324, they maintained a winning meet record. As each point might have been 5-7, it could have been 7-3, they were that close.

All Together

The difference between last year's losing record and this year's winning one, comes down to one factor: scoring. The Ellmen, under coach Steve Kell, lost on points in last year's contest, they both pinned their opponents the second time around. Not the work of some super wrestler cru-

Scoring Attack

The first period of the game represented the only time that there was any contest. The goal that started the Yorkons on the road to their second win of the season was scored by Silber, coming around the Brooklyn net and sliding a shot into the opposite corner. Randy Teppino tied the score for Brooklyn on a long shot from the right point. Moments later, Golin stole the puck in front of the Brooklyn net and slammed a twenty foot shot into the upper cords of the net. Katz then followed with a shot and Yeshiva was ahead by

Seven Points

Unfortunately, the goal-scoring has not been sharp as their goal against average is about 4.5 per game.

Yucons Crush Foes With Scoring Spree

By ALAN SILVERSTEIN And YANKIE POLEFFEY

What the Yeshiva hockey team did to the Brooklyn Poly team last Wednesday, March 21, saw the Sophomores destroy Brooklyn Poly, winning in a 3-1 victory, thus pushing the league's newest entry and ellos in the upper cords of the net. Katz then followed with a shot and Yeshiva was ahead by

The Ellmen will have a second season next year, and the following year will have a third season.

Even though the team is having a wonderful season in running, the questioning continues. Some have expressed doubts concerning the purpose of the tourney, according to Coach Neil Ellman, "to promote wrestling at Yeshiva University especially on the junior varsity level. It is open to all YU students who have not wrestled for this year's varsity and will be conducted, for the most part, under NCAA Collegiate Rules at the following weight classes: 121, 135, 142, 150, 158, 167, 177, 186, and unlimited. For further information and entry forms, please contact Shy Marcus, Rubin 211, as soon as possible.